Goal Is $30,000 For Five Agencies

The 1959 Pickaway County Community Fund campaign opened officially today with the start of business solicitations.

Industrial solicitations have been going on for a week, but collections have been made within the plants themselves.

Today's opening of the Business Division solicitation is the first 1959 appearance of volunteer fund workers on the streets.

The Community Fund is seeking $30,000 to support the activities within the county of the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army and Youth Canteen.

As the campaign gets under way in earnest, training sessions for solicitors and captains are being slated for this week and next.

* * *

FUND headquarters opened today in the lobby of the American Hotel. The headquarters will be open from 1-5 p. m. each day this week. It is a central point for solicitors to turn in money given the fund and to answer questions concerning the fund.

Heading up the important Business Division this year are Ed Ebert and vice chairman Frank Barnhill. Business Division solicitors handle both company and employe gifts of most downtown establishments.

Emphasis is being placed this year on giving at the source of income, that is, employes giving to the PCCF where they work. They will be given identification so that residential solicitors will not make repeat calls during that portion of the drive.

Pledges are also being sought. It is easy to make an appropriate gift to the fund without straining the family budget at this time. By signing a pledge, donors will have the opportunity to increase gifts, and be billed for them later in the year, on a quarterly basis.

Without an adequate Community Fund, the operations of the five fund agencies would have to be curtailed. In this day, with juvenile delinquency on the upswing, disaster lurking in the background and government ready to step into each breach of local welfare work, it is extremely important to support the local fund.

One of the main rules for becoming a fund agency, and many try to get into the fund each year, is the requirement that the agency have an active operation in Pickaway County. All five fund agencies operate here the year around. It is virtually impossible to count the number of Pickaway Countians who take advantage of fund agency facilities and services during a year's time.

The business drive today touches off the intensive portion of the campaign. Residential and county solicitation will start in two weeks. All collections are to be completed by October 12.

* * *

PLANS ARE being made for a new Red Feather Man this year. He will appear on the streets next week, giving away theater passes to those who identify him and answer questions regarding the 1959 PCCF campaign.

Heading up the drive is Dr. Robert Burton, Knollwood Village. He is assisted by Robert K. Harrod, 133 W. Mound St.

DiSalle Seeks Seaway Council Of Governors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today proposed a council of governors of Great Lake states aimed at "getting the full benefits" from the St. Lawrence Seaway.

DiSalle announced he had written letters to governors of New York, Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois, suggesting they form the council.

If they are interested, DiSalle said, he will call a council meeting to be held in Columbus.

The council would have a number of objectives for discussion—industrial developments, freight rates, port development and publicity, economics and general interest problems.

The governor also announced he had read the Franklin County Grand Jury's report on the lobbying investigation, and said he was going to arrange an appointment with Prosecuting Attorney Earl Allison to see if further investigation is necessary. If he finds Allison has additional information not contained in the report, he said, he would consult with Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy as to any further steps.

"I don't know that there's any need for further investigation unless the prosecutor has something more that's not in the report," the governor said.

The grand jury, after weeks of investigating activities of lobbyists and certain legislators, returned indictments against Robert E. Scott of Cambridge, a lobbyist for coal interests. The two indictments concerned his reports for the 1957 and 1958 sessions of the Legislature and accused him of failing to itemize in detail the expenses he listed in the report.

Auto Strikes Bike; Youth Is Injured

Charles Hilderbrand, 15, Idaho, O., was admitted to Berger Hospital for injuries received when a car struck his bicycle on Route 23 about 3 miles north of here at 7:05 p. m. yesterday.

The youth suffered lacerations of the left hand and left leg and possible shoulder and rib injuries. According to State Highway Patrolman Gene Miller, young Hilderbrand was a walk-away from the Columbus State School.

The auto was operated by Virgil H. Willis, 40, of 420 S. Court St. He was not injured.

Patrolman Miller and Deputy Sheriff Charles Felkey said both the car and the bicycle were headed south. The youth said his bike went out of control and swerved in front of the auto.

* * *

WILLIS said he tried to stop, but was unable to avoid striking the bike which had no lights.

Miller said the bicycle was demolished, the front wheel landing on the other side of the highway. The car was slightly damaged, he said.

The juvenile told the lawmen that he ran away from the Columbus school yesterday. He said he took the bicycle from the school's recreation room and headed for his home near Waverly.

Soviet Missile Accuracy Hailed

U.S. Aide Says Reds Can Hit New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has the accuracy to hit New York City with a missile fired from Moscow, the Pentagon's research chief said today. And the United States has the same degree of accuracy in ballistic missile weapons systems, Dr. Herbert F. York, the Defense Department's director of research and engineering, said in a copyrighted interview in the magazine U.S. News and World Report.

York was asked if it would be easier for the Russians to hit New York than hit the moon.

"New York City is not a very apt simile, because it happens to be so big. Let's say that it is much easier to hit the moon than it is to hit a point in the United States from Russia—and hit it with just a few miles of error. It is harder, by quite a bit, to hit a point with a few miles' error in the United States than it is to hit the moon," he replied.

York said the Soviet Union tops the United States in gross thrust—rocket power—available, but not with regard to other components that go to make up a rocket. The bigger boosters mean that the Soviet Union is ahead of us in rocket engine development, he said.

Over-all, in science and engineering at the present time, he said he believes the United States is ahead. It will take more than a year for us to catch up in missiles and space vehicles, he said.

Deadly 'Home Brew' Drink Kills Two Men in Ashville

Third Man Critical In Local Hospital

Two men are dead and a third is in critical condition in Berger Hospital today apparent victims of a death - laden home-brew drinking bout in Ashville yesterday.

Thomas Buzzard, Route 2, Ashville, and George Brown, 56, formerly of Washington C. H., were found dead in a barn at Ashville at 7:45 a. m. today.

John Wilson, 63, whose last known address is Columbus, was found unconscious, but still alive, nearby. Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said all three apparently were overcome after drinking a yet to be determined type of nome-brew.

Sheriff Radcliff and Dr. Ray Carroll, county coroner, said a small quantity of the homemade drink was found in a pint bottle. They said the orange and yellow liquid looked like merthiolate, an antiseptic.

The strange substance was sent to Columbus this morning for a complete analysis. The sheriff said he hoped to get a report on the liquid later in the day.

* * *

THE STRICKEN men were found by Ezekian Blankenship who said he slept last night in the second story of the barn, located in the rear of Crites' Canning Factory on Main St., Ashville.

Blankenship said he and the three stricken men had been staying in the barn. All were employed at the canning factory.

Deputy Dwight Radcliff said Wilson was in "critical" condition in Berger Hospital. Immediate treatment at the hospital included pumping the man's stomach.

According to Deputy Radcliff, an autopsy probably will be held to determine exact cause of death of Buzzard and Brown.

Brown's body was found outside the barn and Wilson was lying nearby. Buzzard was stretched out on a mattress on the floor.

An improvised cot, a mattress, dishes and remnants of food were inside the building. A large spot on the concrete floor indicated that some of the potent liquid had been spilled.

An inspection of the ground near the barn disclosed indications of vomiting.

The bodies of Buzzard and Brown were removed to the Bastian Funeral Home, Ashville, where funeral arrangements will be completed.

Sheriff Radcliff continued his investigation today. A first step was to notify relatives and make an effort to determine the age of Buzzard and the exact addresses of Brown and Wilson.

State Probe Of Kalida School Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A three-man team of Ohio Department of Education inspectors will go to Kalida Local School in Putnam County next week to determine if Roman Catholic doctrine sistant state superintendent, and is being taught there.

Dr. Howard J. Bowers, an astwo departmental assistants, Byron Morton and Glenn Rich, will make the inspection.

A week ago, more than a score of parents of children attending a public grade school held in a Catholic - owned building, St. Michael's, complained to the Ohio Board of Education that religious doctrine is being taught in the school.

The board ordered the inspection and a report to be made at its October meeting. Last weekend, Colin Stackhouse, Putnam County superintendent, denied the charges of the parents.

A U.S. Supreme Court decision about 12 years ago ruled that teaching religious doctrine in a public school is unconstitutional.

The parents had charged that the textbooks included Catholic doctrine.

St. Michael's is leased from the church as a public school. Its teachers are all nuns except for one lay teacher.

U.S. Calls Red China 'Outlaw'

Nation Said Unfit For U.N. Membership

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States today described Red China as an outlaw which has made itself totally unfit for U.N. membership by mass murder, atrocities and aggression.

In a slashing attack on the Peiping regime, former U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson told the U.N. General Assembly that the seating of the Chinese Communists would be a mockery of the U.N. Charter.

"By every standard of national and international conduct," he asserted, "the Red regime of Peiping is an outlaw.

"It has perpetrated mass murder and slavery upon its own people.

"It has confiscated without compensation hundreds of millions of dollars of the property of other nationals. It has thrown foreign citizens into jail without trial and subjected many of them to unhuman tortures.

Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and a high Soviet delegate — perhaps Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov — were expected to take the lead in seeking a hearing of Communist China's claim to U.N. representation.

Menon has done this here year after year, to no avail.

Robertson, an Assembly delegate for the first time, was a firm opponent of Communist China in his six years as assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

A U.S. delegation source said Robertson's speech would be "the strongest we have made on the subject" in the eight years the Assembly has refused to take up the question of who should represent China.

Robertson was expected to accuse Communist China of crushing Tibet, meddling in Laos, menacing Nationalist Formosa and occupying parts of India—all by way of showing she was not peace-loving and so not entitled to sit in the U.N.

The informant said the United States counted on getting a decision to shelve the China issue this year by a vote equal to or better than last year's when the ballot was 44 to 28 with 9 abstentions.

Khrush Said 'Sorcerer'

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman has called Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a "sorcerer" and "assassin" who is trying to seduce Americans with talk of economic competition and peace.

MR. K. OFFERS A DISARMAMENT PLAN — Addressing the United Nations Assembly (above), Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev proposes that every nation in the world dismantle its armed forces within four years, leaving only police units for internal control. His sweeping plan had one snag, according to observers — the absence of an effective plan for inspection and control of the disarmament, as demanded by Western nations in the past.

Senate's Liberal Democrats Set To Push Pet Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has some political due-bills maturing in January which could make the next session one of Congress' liveliest.

Johnson will be under pressure from the Senate's liberal Democrats to wangle passage of legislation to which they can point as progressive when the party delegates sit down to write their presidential campaign platform.

The majority leader, who likes to keep to the middle of the road, has some informal commitments which may bring before the Senate such controversial subjects as civil rights, housing, farm, minimum wage and school construction. Johnson himself has proposed a program of 100 million dollars a year of government insurance of loans to college students.

Faced with a string of presidential vetoes, Johnson was forced to narrow the scope of what the Democrats regard as progressive legislation in the session which ended this month.

There is every sign he will face the same kind of White House opposition in the new session beginning in January. Johnson's attitude is likely to be the same as in the past—that it is better to create laws than to create issues.

Wheher this course will be politically beneficial to the Democratic leader remains to be seen. When vetoes came despite his efforts to trim bills to avoid them, Johnson lost some political face.

On the other hand, he may have strengthened his appeal to the moderate wing of his party which will have a great deal to say about which aspirant is chosen as the 1960 Democratic presidential nominee.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) would like to enhance his bid for the nomination by obtaining passage of a minimum wage increase on top of his participation in the adoption of a labor control bill.

There will be a lot of opposition to raising the wage minimum, some of it from Southern Democrats.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), who scattered his shots widely in the last session, wants a general farm bill passed which will give him an appeal to the rural areas of the Midwest. He must depend on them primarily for nomination support.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) also has a stake in a new farm bill. He is expected to continue the drumfire of criticism he has directed at the Eisenhower administration for its defense and space policies.

No Wonder Khrush Is So Very Chubby

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Here's what Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his family had for breakfast in their royal suite at the plush Mark Hopkins Hotel today:

French California orange juice, yogurt, creamed cottage cheese, boiled half chicken with steamed rice (with strict orders for no salt because of the Premier's salt-free died), hearts of filet steaks (well-done), crisp french-fried potatoes, flower cabbage (fried in oil with whites of raw eggs), new peas (sauted in butter), halved cucumbers (not peeled) and fresh tomatoes (whole, not peeled), green and ripe olives, sliced swiss cheese, white toast, croissants, brioches, Sweet rolls, jelly, marmalade, and coffee, tea and milk.

Railroads Plan To Slash Wages

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's railroads today notified their nonoperating employes of a proposed 15-cent an hour wage cut.

The reduction, management said, would bring wages in line with straight-time hourly earnings of production workers in all other industries.

Nonoperating workers are those not directly involved with the movement of trains. They are agents and similar personnel. Operating employes are engineers, and trainmen.

White House Fears Harm to Coming Talks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The White House, as well as U.S. officials accompanying Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his tour of the nation, appealed today for an end to needling of the Russian leader on cold war issues.

The goal of constructive conversations between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev would not be served by discourtesies to the Soviet leader, White House press secretary James Hagerty said, adding:

"As you know the President's basic purpose and desire is to have Chairman Khrushchev see our country prior to the discussions of mutual interest he will have with him at Camp David this week.

"The President is looking forward to these discussions and, as he has said before, hopes that they can be constructive.

"This purpose of constructive meetings at Camp David is not served by any personal discourtesies extended to the chairman during his visit."

"If he runs into any more mayors like that one (Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles) he really is likely to pack up his bags and fly home," one official commented.

Poulson touched off the biggest rumpus of Khrushchev's U.S. tour Saturday night by challenging him on his statement that "We shall bury you." Khrushchev angrily accused Poulson of distorting the remark and threatened to fly straight back to Moscow.

The Premier regained his usual ebullience on a sunny train trip north and, after a warm reception from the crowds here, made it plain he has no intention of cutting short his tour.

Neither Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and Khrushchev's official host, nor Llewelyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, would be quoted.

One official complained: "Now he's running into one attack after another about old dead issues. If these mayors want votes, they should do it some other time."

Officials indicated they believe

Secretary, 23, Slain, Tossed Into Harbor

BOSTON (AP)—A winsome and talented secretary of a university professor, returning from the Orient, was victim of violent death on shipboard after the world-girdling vessel left Boston, investigators said today.

The savagely battered body of Lynn Kauffman, 23, pretty Chicago divorcee, was found in Boston harbor Saturday, a day after the Dutch passenger-cargo steamer Utrecht sailed for New York.

The Utrecht cleared Commonwealth Pier, Boston, at 6:15 p.m. Friday. Conversation was held with the girl, through her cabin door, at 6:55 p.m.

In addition to the crew and a pilot, the ship carried 11 passengers. They included Juanita Spector, wife of Prof. Stanley Spector of Washington University, St. Louis. Prof. Spector, who was not aboard, had employed the young woman two years ago as secretary and during the past year as interpreter in his Far East studies.

Lynn made her home with the Spectors in Clayton, Mo., outside St. Louis.

It was Mrs. Spector who talked with the girl through the door.

Third Man Critical In Local Hospital

Two men are dead and a third is in critical condition in Berger Hospital today apparent victims of a death - laden home-brew drinking bout in Ashville yesterday.

Thomas Buzzard, Route 2, Ashville, and George Brown, 56, formerly of Washington C. H., were found dead in a barn at Ashville at 7:45 a. m. today.

John Wilson, 63, whose last known address is Columbus, was found unconscious, but still alive, nearby. Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said all three apparently were overcome after drinking a yet to be determined type of nome-brew.

Sheriff Radcliff and Dr. Ray Carroll, county coroner, said a small quantity of the homemade drink was found in a pint bottle. They said the orange and yellow liquid looked like merthiolate, an antiseptic.

The strange substance was sent to Columbus this morning for a complete analysis. The sheriff said he hoped to get a report on the liquid later in the day.

* * *

THE STRICKEN men were found by Ezekian Blankenship who said he slept last night in the second story of the barn, located in the rear of Crites' Canning Factory on Main St., Ashville.

Blankenship said he and the three stricken men had been staying in the barn. All were employed at the canning factory.

Deputy Dwight Radcliff said Wilson was in "critical" condition in Berger Hospital. Immediate treatment at the hospital included pumping the man's stomach.

According to Deputy Radcliff, an autopsy probably will be held to determine exact cause of death of Buzzard and Brown.

Brown's body was found outside the barn and Wilson was lying nearby. Buzzard was stretched out on a mattress on the floor.

An improvised cot, a mattress, dishes and remnants of food were inside the building. A large spot on the concrete floor indicated that some of the potent liquid had been spilled.

An inspection of the ground near the barn disclosed indications of vomiting.

The bodies of Buzzard and Brown were removed to the Bastian Funeral Home, Ashville, where funeral arrangements will be completed.

Sheriff Radcliff continued his investigation today. A first step was to notify relatives and make an effort to determine the age of Buzzard and the exact addresses of Brown and Wilson.

U.S. Calls Red China 'Outlaw'

Nation Said Unfit For U.N. Membership

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States today described Red China as an outlaw which has made itself totally unfit for U.N. membership by mass murder, atrocities and aggression.

In a slashing attack on the Peiping regime, former U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson told the U.N. General Assembly that the seating of the Chinese Communists would be a mockery of the U.N. Charter.

"By every standard of national and international conduct," he asserted, "the Red regime of Peiping is an outlaw.

"It has perpetrated mass murder and slavery upon its own people.

"It has confiscated without compensation hundreds of millions of dollars of the property of other nationals. It has thrown foreign citizens into jail without trial and subjected many of them to unhuman tortures.

Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and a high Soviet delegate — perhaps Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov — were expected to take the lead in seeking a hearing of Communist China's claim to U.N. representation.

Menon has done this here year after year, to no avail.

Robertson, an Assembly delegate for the first time, was a firm opponent of Communist China in his six years as assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

A U.S. delegation source said Robertson's speech would be "the strongest we have made on the subject" in the eight years the Assembly has refused to take up the question of who should represent China.

Robertson was expected to accuse Communist China of crushing Tibet, meddling in Laos, menacing Nationalist Formosa and occupying parts of India—all by way of showing she was not peace-loving and so not entitled to sit in the U.N.

The informant said the United States counted on getting a decision to shelve the China issue this year by a vote equal to or better than last year's when the ballot was 44 to 28 with 9 abstentions.

Khrush Said 'Sorcerer'

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman has called Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a "sorcerer" and "assassin" who is trying to seduce Americans with talk of economic competition and peace.

MR. K. OFFERS A DISARMAMENT PLAN — Addressing the United Nations Assembly (above), Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev proposes that every nation in the world dismantle its armed forces within four years, leaving only police units for internal control. His sweeping plan had one snag, according to observers — the absence of an effective plan for inspection and control of the disarmament, as demanded by Western nations in the past.

Senate's Liberal Democrats Set To Push Pet Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has some political due-bills maturing in January which could make the next session one of Congress' liveliest.

Johnson will be under pressure from the Senate's liberal Democrats to wangle passage of legislation to which they can point as progressive when the party delegates sit down to write their presidential campaign platform.

The majority leader, who likes to keep to the middle of the road, has some informal commitments which may bring before the Senate such controversial subjects as civil rights, housing, farm, minimum wage and school construction. Johnson himself has proposed a program of 100 million dollars a year of government insurance of loans to college students.

Faced with a string of presidential vetoes, Johnson was forced to narrow the scope of what the Democrats regard as progressive legislation in the session which ended this month.

There is every sign he will face the same kind of White House opposition in the new session beginning in January. Johnson's attitude is likely to be the same as in the past—that it is better to create laws than to create issues.

Wheher this course will be politically beneficial to the Democratic leader remains to be seen. When vetoes came despite his efforts to trim bills to avoid them, Johnson lost some political face.

On the other hand, he may have strengthened his appeal to the moderate wing of his party which will have a great deal to say about which aspirant is chosen as the 1960 Democratic presidential nominee.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) would like to enhance his bid for the nomination by obtaining passage of a minimum wage increase on top of his participation in the adoption of a labor control bill.

There will be a lot of opposition to raising the wage minimum, some of it from Southern Democrats.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), who scattered his shots widely in the last session, wants a general farm bill passed which will give him an appeal to the rural areas of the Midwest. He must depend on them primarily for nomination support.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) also has a stake in a new farm bill. He is expected to continue the drumfire of criticism he has directed at the Eisenhower administration for its defense and space policies.

No Wonder Khrush Is So Very Chubby

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Here's what Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his family had for breakfast in their royal suite at the plush Mark Hopkins Hotel today:

French California orange juice, yogurt, creamed cottage cheese, boiled half chicken with steamed rice (with strict orders for no salt because of the Premier's salt-free died), hearts of filet steaks (well-done), crisp french-fried potatoes, flower cabbage (fried in oil with whites of raw eggs), new peas (sauted in butter), halved cucumbers (not peeled) and fresh tomatoes (whole, not peeled), green and ripe olives, sliced swiss cheese, white toast, croissants, brioches, Sweet rolls, jelly, marmalade, and coffee, tea and milk.

Railroads Plan To Slash Wages

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's railroads today notified their nonoperating employes of a proposed 15-cent an hour wage cut.

The reduction, management said, would bring wages in line with straight-time hourly earnings of production workers in all other industries.

Nonoperating workers are those not directly involved with the movement of trains. They are agents and similar personnel. Operating employes are engineers, and trainmen.

White House Fears Harm to Coming Talks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The White House, as well as U.S. officials accompanying Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his tour of the nation, appealed today for an end to needling of the Russian leader on cold war issues.

The goal of constructive conversations between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev would not be served by discourtesies to the Soviet leader, White House press secretary James Hagerty said, adding:

"As you know the President's basic purpose and desire is to have Chairman Khrushchev see our country prior to the discussions of mutual interest he will have with him at Camp David this week.

"The President is looking forward to these discussions and, as he has said before, hopes that they can be constructive.

"This purpose of constructive meetings at Camp David is not served by any personal discourtesies extended to the chairman during his visit."

"If he runs into any more mayors like that one (Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles) he really is likely to pack up his bags and fly home," one official commented.

Poulson touched off the biggest rumpus of Khrushchev's U.S. tour Saturday night by challenging him on his statement that "We shall bury you." Khrushchev angrily accused Poulson of distorting the remark and threatened to fly straight back to Moscow.

The Premier regained his usual ebullience on a sunny train trip north and, after a warm reception from the crowds here, made it plain he has no intention of cutting short his tour.

Neither Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and Khrushchev's official host, nor Llewelyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, would be quoted.

One official complained: "Now he's running into one attack after another about old dead issues. If these mayors want votes, they should do it some other time."

Officials indicated they believe

Secretary, 23, Slain, Tossed Into Harbor

BOSTON (AP)—A winsome and talented secretary of a university professor, returning from the Orient, was victim of violent death on shipboard after the world-girdling vessel left Boston, investigators said today.

The savagely battered body of Lynn Kauffman, 23, pretty Chicago divorcee, was found in Boston harbor Saturday, a day after the Dutch passenger-cargo steamer Utrecht sailed for New York.

The Utrecht cleared Commonwealth Pier, Boston, at 6:15 p.m. Friday. Conversation was held with the girl, through her cabin door, at 6:55 p.m.

In addition to the crew and a pilot, the ship carried 11 passengers. They included Juanita Spector, wife of Prof. Stanley Spector of Washington University, St. Louis. Prof. Spector, who was not aboard, had employed the young woman two years ago as secretary and during the past year as interpreter in his Far East studies.

Lynn made her home with the Spectors in Clayton, Mo., outside St. Louis.

It was Mrs. Spector who talked with the girl through the door.

Soviet Missile Accuracy Hailed

U.S. Aide Says Reds Can Hit New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has the accuracy to hit New York City with a missile fired from Moscow, the Pentagon's research chief said today. And the United States has the same degree of accuracy in ballistic missile weapons systems, Dr. Herbert F. York, the Defense Department's director of research and engineering, said in a copyrighted interview in the magazine U.S. News and World Report.

York was asked if it would be easier for the Russians to hit New York than hit the moon.

"New York City is not a very apt simile, because it happens to be so big. Let's say that it is much easier to hit the moon than it is to hit a point in the United States from Russia—and hit it with just a few miles of error. It is harder, by quite a bit, to hit a point with a few miles' error in the United States than it is to hit the moon," he replied.

York said the Soviet Union tops the United States in gross thrust —rocket power—available, but not with regard to other components that go to make up a rocket. The bigger boosters mean that the Soviet Union is ahead of us in rocket engine development, he said.

Over-all, in science and engineering at the present time, he said he believes the United States is ahead. It will take more than a year for us to catch up in missiles and space vehicles, he said.

The official total of dead reached 432. The government asked the United States for emergency relief. Typhoon Sarah hit South Korea Thursday.

State Probe Of Kalida School Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A three-man team of Ohio Department of Education inspectors will go to Kalida Local School in Putnam County next week to determine if Roman Catholic doctrine sistant state superintendent, and is being taught there.

Dr. Howard J. Bowers, an astwo departmental assistants, Byron Morton and Glenn Rich, will make the inspection.

A week ago, more than a score of parents of children attending a public grade school held in a Catholic - owned building, St. Michael's, complained to the Ohio Board of Education that religious doctrine is being taught in the school.

The board ordered the inspection and a report to be made at its October meeting. Last weekend, Colin Stackhouse, Putnam County superintendent, denied the charges of the parents.

A U.S. Supreme Court decision about 12 years ago ruled that teaching religious doctrine in a public school is unconstitutional.

The parents had charged that the textbooks included Catholic doctrine.

St. Michael's is leased from the church as a public school. Its teachers are all nuns except for one lay teacher.

Steel Negotiations Slated To Resume

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations in the nationwide steel industry strike resume here today after a recess since Friday.

Federal mediators continued their efforts toward settlement of the 69-day-old strike.

The strike of 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers of America has idled approximately 175,000 employes in related industries almost 90 per cent of the nation's steel production has been shut down.

The union is seeking a substantial wage increase and other benefits in a new contract. The industry, seeking a one-year freeze on wages and benefits, contends that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. The union denies this.

Nikita's Wife Always Shows Serene Front

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Serene is the word for Mrs. Nina Khrushchev in the midst of her husband's unpredictable, hectic and free-wheeling tour.

Mrs. Khrushchev is on her first trip to a country of the West. Is she relaxed amid America's top diplomats, officials and movie stars?

"I've never seen her otherwise," reports her official hostess, Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, the tall, blonde wife of the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Boston-born Mrs. Lodge, who moves with polished grace in diplomatic and social circles, calls the tour "an experience I will never forget."

Mrs. Lodge believes the whole Khrushchev family is enjoying the visit to America, even if at times it may seem otherwise. Here are some of her impressions.

"Almost everything interests Mrs. Khrushchev," he says," the countryside, cattle, even the roofing on a house.

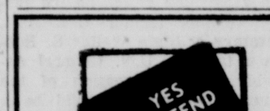

Mrs. Khrushchev laughed out loud at the Broadway musical "The Music Man;" liked the farm at Beltsville, Md., best of all. She seems to know a lot about trees and vegetables, spotting them accurately.

The Khrushchevs—that is son, Sergei, and married daughters, Rada and Julia—and Papa Nikita —appear to be a very close family "and I think they have fun together."

They're not formal at all, and Mrs. Khrushchev is "definitely sort of the nucleus of the family."

further clashes with local and state hosts could adversely affect discussions on the cold war.

In contrast to the reception given Khrushchev by Poulson, San Francisco Mayor George Christopher was friendly throughout. He even embraced Mrs. Khrushchev and gave her a bouquet of flowers.

The anger-provoking questions didn't stop, however, and Khrushchev reportedly blew up half a dozen times at a meeting with U.S. labor leaders Sunday night. Walter Reuther, Auto Workers president, said the labor group made no effort to tone down questions and had received no request for a kid glove approach.

At this dinner, so the union leaders reported, Khrushchev vigorously defended his system and his policy, including the putting down of the revolt in Hungary.

Those who started the Hungarian revolution, Khrushchev said, were "hooligans and saboteurs."

The labor leaders said they defended the capitalistic system just as vigorously.

So the Soviet Premier's summary of the debate seems fair enough.

"Our positions are irreconcilable," Khrushchev was quoted.

Today should be different.

Along with sightseeing, Khrushchev will drop in on the San Jose plant of the International Business Machine Corp., lunch with the workers in the cafeteria and look at the big electronic monsters that so intrigued him at the American fair in Moscow.

For reasons never made clear, a trip to the Stanford research institution at Menlo Park was canceled.

Tonight, when Mayor George Christopher presides over a dinner, Khrushchev will return to formal speech-making.

Sunday turned into another typical Khrushchev day, with comedy, scenery, joviality and fireworks all jumbled together.

The fireworks, appropriately, were saved for tne night.

It would have been a rare sight: Khrushchev, who speaks for the toilers of the Soviet Union, and the union leaders, who represent millions of U.S. workers, sitting down to a fancy dinner in the swank Mark Hopkins Hotel.

No outsiders were present. All that is known of what went on comes from a news conference held by the labor leaders.

Until this meeting, the Sabbath was relatively calm for Khrushchev — and a warm reception at the hotel had put him in fine humor.

Bicycle Stolen

Mrs. William Sark, 738 Maplewood Ave., reported to Circleville Police today that her son's bicycle was stolen from their back yard last night.

U.S. Labor Chiefs, Red Boss Tangle In Bitter Debate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev kept his peculiar brand of belligerent diplomacy going full blast at a tumultuous dinner session with a group of American labor leaders Sunday night.

The Soviet Premier, according to the union chiefs, blew up on at least a half-dozen occasions and wound up conceding: "Our positions are irreconcilable."

Walter Reuther, Auto Workers Union president and spokesman for the labor group, said Khrushchev accused him of being a dictator and "a capitalistic stooge."

"I certainly think Mr. Khrushchev feels we gave him a very bad time—he made that quite clear," Reuther told a jammed news conference after the three-hour, 20-minute private dinner.

The union men said they blasted communism in no uncertain terms and told Khrushchev of American workers' devotion to freedom. They said Khrushchev defended the Communist system and both sides thereupon agreed to disagree.

No effort was made to tone down questions, Reuther said, although there had been advance word State Department officials wanted to avoid having Khrushchev further irritated on his American tour. Reuther said his group had received no request for a kid glove approach.

Khrushchev didn't budge an inch. When asked about the 1956 revolt in Hungary, suppressed by Soviet troops, he accused the revolutionaries of being "hooligans and saboteurs."

Why is it that Soviet workers have no right to strike—a freedom extended workers in this country—Khrushchev was asked.

His reply, the union men said, was that Soviet workers have such a right, but never exercise it feeling, according to Khrushchev, their government will take care of them.

Emil Rieve, board chairman of the Textile Workers, asked Khrushchev if it weren't possible to have socialism without dictatorship.

"He sort of lost control of himself at this point," Reuther said. "He attempted to dismiss it as a stupid question not worthy of discussion. He never answered."

Steel Negotiations Slated To Resume

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations in the nationwide steel industry strike resume here today after a recess since Friday.

Federal mediators continued their efforts toward settlement of the 69-day-old strike.

The strike of 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers of America has idled approximately 175,000 employes in related industries almost 90 per cent of the nation's steel production has been shut down.

The union is seeking a substantial wage increase and other benefits in a new contract. The industry, seeking a one-year freeze on wages and benefits, contends that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. The union denies this.

Nikita's Wife Always Shows Serene Front

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Serene is the word for Mrs. Nina Khrushchev in the midst of her husband's unpredictable, hectic and free-wheeling tour.

Mrs. Khrushchev is on her first trip to a country of the West. Is she relaxed amid America's top diplomats, officials and movie stars?

"I've never seen her otherwise," reports her official hostess, Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, the tall, blonde wife of the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Boston-born Mrs. Lodge, who moves with polished grace in diplomatic and social circles, calls the tour "an experience I will never forget."

Mrs. Lodge believes the whole Khrushchev family is enjoying the visit to America, even if at times it may seem otherwise. Here are some of her impressions.

"Almost everything interests Mrs. Khrushchev," he says," the countryside, cattle, even the roofing on a house.

Mrs. Khrushchev laughed out loud at the Broadway musical "The Music Man;" liked the farm at Beltsville, Md., best of all. She seems to know a lot about trees and vegetables, spotting them accurately.

The Khrushchevs—that is son, Sergei, and married daughters, Rada and Julia—and Papa Nikita —appear to be a very close family "and I think they have fun together."

They're not formal at all, and Mrs. Khrushchev is "definitely sort of the nucleus of the family."

Grass Fire Reported

The Pickaway County Sheriffs Department reported a grass fire occurred at 1:25 p. m. Saturday on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad bypass, located north of here over old U. S. Route 23. There was no loss.

further clashes with local and state hosts could adversely affect discussions on the cold war.

In contrast to the reception given Khrushchev by Poulson, San Francisco Mayor George Christopher was friendly throughout. He even embraced Mrs. Khrushchev and gave her a bouquet of flowers.

The anger-provoking questions didn't stop, however, and Khrushchev reportedly blew up half a dozen times at a meeting with U.S. labor leaders Sunday night. Walter Reuther, Auto Workers president, said the labor group made no effort to tone down questions and had received no request for a kid glove approach.

At this dinner, so the union leaders reported, Khrushchev vigorously defended his system and his policy, including the putting down of the revolt in Hungary.

Those who started the Hungarian revolution, Khrushchev said, were "hooligans and saboteurs."

The labor leaders said they defended the capitalistic system just as vigorously.

So the Soviet Premier's summary of the debate seems fair enough.

"Our positions are irreconcilable," Khrushchev was quoted.

Today should be different.

Along with sightseeing, Khrushchev will drop in on the San Jose plant of the International Business Machine Corp., lunch with the workers in the cafeteria and look at the big electronic monsters that so intrigued him at the American fair in Moscow.

For reasons never made clear, a trip to the Stanford research institution at Menlo Park was canceled.

Tonight, when Mayor George Christopher presides over a dinner, Khrushchev will return to formal speech-making.

Sunday turned into another typical Khrushchev day, with comedy, scenery, joviality and fireworks all jumbled together.

The fireworks, appropriately, were saved for tne nignt.

It would have been a rare sight: Khrushchev, who speaks for the toilers of the Soviet Union, and the union leaders, who represent millions of U.S. workers, sitting down to a fancy dinner in the swank Mark Hopkins Hotel.

No outsiders were present. All that is known of what went on comes from a news conference held by the labor leaders.

Until this meeting, the Sabbath was relatively calm for Khrushchev — and a warm reception at the hotel had put him in fine humor.

$5,142 Balance Foreseen in '60

Williamsport's 1960 financial picture looks rosy according to next years estimated budget which predicts a $5,142.80 general fund balance for the start of 1961.

Its budget was filed July 23 with Pickaway County Auditor Mrs. Marvine H. Rhoades. General fund receipts were expected to total $10,087.80 and expenditures were set at $4,945.

1960 estimated receipts are approximately $2,000 less than in 1959 which had a $4,706.87 balance compared with next year's balance of $1,500.

Offsetting this reduction in receipts were increases in general property taxes and sales taxes. Estimated receipts with 1959 figures in parentheses are:

* * *

BALANCE $1,500 ($4,706.87); general property taxes, $3,700 ($3,200); classified property taxes, $100, ($100); sales taxes, $1,800 ($1,500); cigarette taxes, $145 ($130);

Liquor permits, $50 ($50); assessments, $42.80 ($42.80); fire department reimbursed expenses, $550 ($500); Monroe, Wayne, Jackson, Muhlenberg and Deercreek fire protection services, $600 ($600), and a special fire protection levy, $1,600 ($1,500).

Expenses are down nearly $300 from 1959. 1960 estimated expenditures with 1959 figures in parentheses are:

Councilmen's salaries, $275 ($432); mayor's salary, $360 ($360); clerk's salary, $360 ($360); clerk's expenses, $50 ($40); solicitor's salary $100 ($75); marshal's salary, $400 ($400);

Firemen's salaries, $60 ($60); other fire department expenses, $1,200 ($1,000); street lighting expenses, $1,700 ($1,600) and water hydrant retal, $800 ($800).

Street construction, maintenace and repair receipts were estimated at $6,700 and expenses were set at $5,800 for a $900 1961 balance.

* * *

A TOTAL OF $900 was estimated in the state highway improvement fund balance. Anticipated water fund receipts were $20,775 while expenditures were estimated at $10,500 for a $10,275 balance.

Third of Ohio Congressmen Taking 'Junkets' This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The word "junket" makes a congressman flinch. It has a sound he resents, since it means a trip at taxpayers' expense.

This, most congressmen will tell you, is entirely unfair. Inspection trips to places abroad affected by the legislation they write, they say, are worth far more to the public than the cost.

Just a few weeks ago, an Ohioan on the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. Frank T. Bow (R-Ohio), wrote a news release explaining at length why he thought the taxpayers benefited from his inspection trip to the U.S. Fair at Moscow.

Whatever value these trips may have, a lot of senators and representatives take them. For example, nearly a third of the Ohioans in Congress have been abroad—or are going soon—this year.

Indeed, so many congressmen from throughout the United States were absent in the recent session that the House leadership is considering banning tax-paid trips abroad while Congress is in session.

Getting down to cases, Ohio's senators, Democrats Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young, have taken no trips outside this country this year and have not announced plans of taking any. But in the House the situation is different.

Here is a rundown of Ohioans:

Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R): Currently in Rio de Janiero, Brazil, attending an international roads conference.

Rep. William M. McCulloch (R): Office says he has decided not to attend immigration conference at Geneva, Switzerland, as he has in past.

Rep. Delbert L. Latta (R): Office says "he turned down two opportunities to go—one to Europe and one to Bogota, Columbia."

Rep. T. Ludlow Ashley (R): He leaves shortly, as member of a housing subcommittee, for Scandinavia, France, Italy, Austria and possibly Greece.

Rep. Walter H. Moeller (D): He was a delegate to NATO Congress in London, has been considering a trip to Western Europe as member of the Space Committee.

Rep. A. David Baumhart (R): He is on inspection trip abroad—Paris, London, Rome, Oslo, Brussels — as member of Space Committee. He also had another trip earlier to London as a delegate to NATO Congress.

Rep. John E. Henderson (R): He may go to Geneva as a delegate to an immigration conference.

Rep. Frank T. Bow (R): Went to Moscow as a member of the Appropriations Committee.

Rep. Robert W. Levering (D): Office says "he was invited on a Far Eastern junket but turned it down."

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D): He is currently in Paris and going to Bad Godesberg, Germany, as a delegate to a conference on German - American relations, and member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. He took another trip earlier to Moscow and Warsaw, Poland, as a member of that committee.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R): Went to Moscow and Warsaw as a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, stopping five days in Nice, France, before returning to Washington.

Rep. William E. Minshall (R): Office says he has been invited on a trip abroad as a member of the Appropriations Committee but has not decided.

The offices of these 10 Ohio congressmen report "no trips":

Reps. William E. Hess (R), Paul F. Schenck (R), Clarence J. Brown (R), Jackson E. Betts (R), Robert E. Cook (D), Samuel L. Devine (R), William H. Ayres (R), Michael J. Kirwin (D), Michael A. Feighan (D), Charles A. Vanik (D).

People Who Shun Polio Shots Rapped

CINCINNATI (AP)—The dean of Ohio State University Medical School took a verbal swipe today at people who ignore Salk polio vaccine.

And the dean, Dr. Charles A. Doan, said it looks like the researcher who develops a useful solution to a disease must turn salesman to get people to use it.

"Disease is not a respector of any people and people, by and large, the world over are no respectors of disease," he said.

Dr. Doan's comments were in a talk prepared for dedication of the new Wherry Medical Research Building at the University of Cincinnati.

He said: "The physician-investigator must not only seek the solution to the diagnostic and thereapeutic problems of disease.

"But after he finds them, he must then persuade the lay public to accept and use them.

"Witness the clamor for the prevention of poliomyelitis with the magnificent public response to the annual nationwide fund drives for many years.

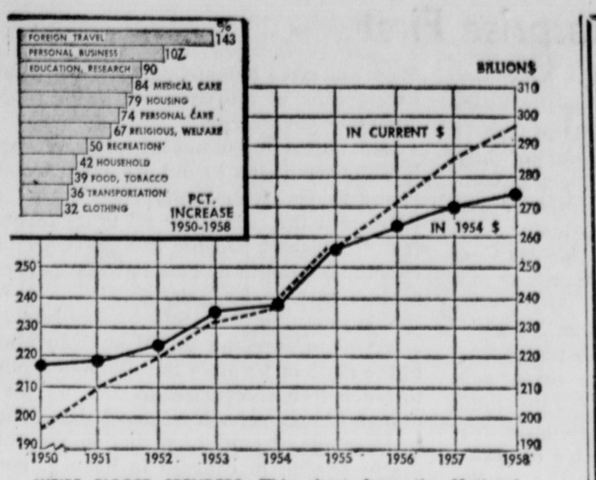

"We find our preventative vaccine a reality, but a drug on the market through public procrastination and indifference with this disease still is a dangerous threat.

"Yes, the good American physician of today must in addition to his scientific knowledge and expert medical training be also to his patients priest and philosopher, with a world citizen's point of view, with broad humanitarian sympathies and with an insatiable curiousity for new discoveries."

1960 estimated receipts are approximately $2,000 less than in 1959 which had a $4,706.87 balance compared with next year's balance of $1,500.

Offsetting this reduction in receipts were increases in general property taxes and sales taxes. Estimated receipts with 1959 figures in parentheses are:

Expenses are down nearly $300 from 1959. 1960 estimated expenditures with 1959 figures in parentheses are:

Teach Free Enterprise First

Educators in various locales are currently engaged in discussions of the merits of teaching public school children, particularly those in higher grades of high school, the theories and practices of communism as a form of government. The idea is to acquaint the generation now approaching maturity with the ideology under which more people live than any other.

This might seem to be admirable instruction, properly directed of course, which might help dispel the myth subscribed to by some that the only thing wrong with communism is its administration. To prohibit the explanation of Marxist doctrines in public schools on the ground that receptive minds might fancy a preference for this system over free enterprise might seem to be self defeating.

Perhaps the trouble lies in the suspicion that many high school graduates do not have a firm foundation in the operation of their own Republic, and must wait for a formal introduction to economic and business realities for tutoring on matters which should have received the highest priority in the classroom.

Politics, the art of government, and the definite advantages to free men of the incentive-award system of industrial economics have been pushed to the background of too many school programs. There are strong proponents of science, liberal arts, physical hygiene and sports, handicraft arts and the trades and even military sciences, but who is lobbying for a better understanding of the complexities of representative government?

Without the fundamentals of representative government firmly entranched in young minds, it can only be a matter of time until the principles all proclaim but few understand become dissipated by the cancerous growth of bureaucratic government control and regulation.

It is interesting, therefore — and heartening — to note the Board of Education of the state of Virginia has adopted a plan to teach free enterprise in the upper grades of high school. Acknowledging that smatterings of public instruction are currently offered in courses in history, government, business, mathematics and other subjects, the state superintendent of public instruction said improvements are needed for the subject "to be brought together in a concentrated unit."

Other state education officials and local school units might well ponder whether it would not be advantageous to insure a firm foundation on America's government structure before teaching systems foreign to it.

'INTOURIST' ON HIS WAY—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev gives a smiling goodby to Washington as his private train pulls out for New York and more sightseeing.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev sounds like a genial undertaker. The Soviet Premier can tell jokes but he has repeatedly talked of death in one form or another since he came here.

A psychologist might find it gloomy that Khrushchev, who switches from humor to anger in a flash and who has the power to turn the cold war hot instantly, dwells so much on corpses, graves, annihilation, burial and death.

He told the West three years ago "We will bury you," explaining when he got here that he had meant communism would prove itself superior to capitalism. He said he didn't mean the physical act of burying.

Nevertheless, "bury" must be high in his consciousness.

At the United Nations he spoke of the need to bury a dead man—meaning the Formosan government of Chiang Kai-shek — and urged that the "corpse" be carted away.

At one time he mentioned the power of nuclear weapons to take a "terrible toll in human lives" and at another warned they could cause the "annihilation of human beings."

He referred to the colonial system as "moribund," said a question about the Soviet Union's part in crushing the Hungarian revolution was a "dead rat stuck in your throat," and talked of East-West peace as a "question of the life or death of people."

He wondered out loud in Los Angeles if he should commit suicide—this was supposed to be a joke—because he couldn't see Disneyland, and he called for American-Soviet assurance of peace lest the earth be "covered with ashes and graves."

Khrushchev is not a simple man. Now, having elbowed his way to the top of the Communist heap, he is used to having his way without contradiction. That may explain his sudden spurts of anger when he thinks he is short-circuited or affronted.

But there is another possible explanation: that he is a lot less self-assured than he tries to appraises questions about his stability and his patient endurance under stress.

This is probably a matter of concern for Western leaders in dealing with him. It's possible he's been putting on an act here, using temper, backed by Soviet power, as a kind of blackjack.

But the temper is there. If Khrushchev's performance so far could be summed up in a sentence, this might be it: he lacks the grace of a man who is really sure of himself.

Yet Khrushchev himself, in talking at the U.N., pointed out how disastrous the instability of one man could be at a time when one pear. It would be easy, judging from things he says, to consider him arrogant.

But that may be only a compensation for deep-rooted inferiority.

His repeated boasts about Soviet power and his brandishing of rockets, even on this visit, are not the language of a man truly self-confident that Soviet power is acknowledged and respected.

He spends too much time trying to compel respect—too much time at least for a man who firmly believes he has respect.

He is quick-witted. He's tough. But he is also impetuous—for example, his bad temper with the mayor of Los Angeles—and this trigger-pull on a hydrogen weapon could start a war or destroy a city.

He said then: "The world has reached a point where on the strength of no more than some ridiculous accident, such as a technical fault in a plane carrying a hydrogen bomb or mental aberration in the pilot behind the controls, may translate war into reality."

Human Body Replaced Yearly

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You're practically a new person every 12 months. Remember when they used to say one's body changed every seven years? Now science says 98 per cent of the atoms in the human body are replaced with new ones each year.

Life is pleasant down on the farm, but farmers are almost twice as likely as city dwellers to fall victim to arthritis, America's greatest crippler.

Economy in government note: The U. S. Army now buys at least 50,000 retreaded tires a year.

The underworld is interested in a new plastic surgery technique for permanently destroying fingerprints. They are removed with a high-speed electric wire brush.

How time does march on! For example, of the 176 million people in this country today, 71 per cent don't remember World War I, 57 per cent have no personal recollection of what life is like in a major depression, and 40 per cent can't remember when the Soviet Union was our active ally.

Prosperity item: Arthur A. Desser, president of a realty firm here, says there now is a waiting list for $100,000 homes.

Exercises Aid Fitness

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Exercise is good for you — for most of you, at any rate — if you use a little common sense.

As I have pointed out repeatedly, exercise won't help you lose much weight. However, it is an extremely important factor in contributing to total fitness.

Proper exercise helps you maintain strength, agility, speed, skill and endurance.

Naturally, any exercise program should be undertaken only with your doctor's approval. A complete physical examination is a prerequisite to any program of vigorous exercise.

When I talk about exercise, I don't mean to limit it to specially prescribed exercises. Exercise also includes actives games and sports and certain rather vigorous hobbies such as gardening and other work around the home. Swimming, of course, is a form of exercise but so is dancing.

All forms of exercise should be graded according to age, the state of an individual's fitness and his reaction to activity.

If you are past the age of 40, you can't expect to perform with the same vigor as someone in his 20's. Through childhood and adolescence, muscular strength increases.

For most of us it reaches a maximum in early adulthood. Women generally develop full muscular strength at a much earlier age than men do.

This strength begins a gradual decline for most persons when they reach their 30's or 40's. About the same time that circulatory system and the heart also begin to lose some of their functional capacity and some of their ability to recover after exercise.

Persons who have exercised throughout their earlier life and continue to do so after they have reached the peak of muscular development are likely to retain their capacities longer than persons who have not exercised much.

Unless you have maintained a systematic exercise or training schedule at least for several years, I don't recommend hard, fast, sustained or highly competitive games or sports for any of you past the age of 30.

In a subsequent column I'll give you some tips on when to exercise and when to stop exercising.

Question and Answer

Mrs. V. R. W.: What can I do for mental tension headache?

Answer: Tension headaches are cuased by a tense, anxious emotional situation. If your personal and business problems can be adjusted so as to avoid the tensions that beset you, you may be relieved. Adequate rest and relaxation is important.

Certain medicines help; your doctor can guide you into proper mental attitudes.

Russian Can Buy on Time

By George Sokolsky

Installment buying is saving in advance; that is, it is possible to make purchases without possessing the means to make the perchase. It is a distinctly American innovation in the capitalist economy.

Prior to installment buying, the purchaser bought a commodity after he had the money. One of the earliest forms of installment buying was the "Customer Pedlar." He was, in effect, a factor who lent the customer the money to buy a commodity, vrovided the purchase was made in a particular store. The Customer Pedlar got his from both sides, a commission from the store and interest on the money he lent to the customer.

Installment buying is, in a large measure, responsible for the exaggeratedly high standard of living in the United States. It makes mass production possible because of the enormous purchasing power developed among the people. It is also inflationary.

Installment buying has generally been condemned by Marxists as wasteful and as a weapon of the capitalists to soften the worker into believing that he is better off than he really is. Now, however, "Izvestia," the Soviet government organ, officially announces that Soviet Russia is about to adopt installment buying as a method of increasing the purchasing power of the Russian people. Herewith the text:

"'Izvestiya' reports that in the near future workers and employees will be able to buy a variety of consumer goods through installment buying. The list of these goods includes phonographs and radio sets of the super, first, and second class; cameras costing from 400 rubles; bicycles, scooters, motorcycles 'M-L-M' and K-58'; 'Moskva' boat engines; 'Tula' sewing machines; shotguns costing from 700 rubles; metal wristwatches; and woolen and silk clothing. This list, applicable to the union republics, may be changed and augmented.

"In buying goods on the installment plan, customers will make an initial cash payment of 20 per cent of the value of the goods and pay off the rest over 6 and 12 months.

"For the convenience of customers and on their written authorization, enterprises and institutions where they are employed will deduct the installments from their salaries. This will result in a considerable saving of time. An interest rate of 1 to 2 per cent of the cost of the goods is charged for the installment plan facilities."

Two phases of this announcement are interesting. One is the check-off. In the United States the check-off is employed principally to collect labor union dues. It is also used in connection with fringe benefits to which the employer makes contributions. It is rarely employed in connection with installment buying. However, in Soviet Russia the government is the sole employer and the government is the sole shopkeeper. In a word, if a fellow wants to gyp, he can only gyp the government which gives him his job, determines his wages, provides him with permits to use living quarters and sells him everything he buys.

The other factor of exceptional interest is the interest rate which the government charges for its money. Interest is a capitalistic device. In theoretical Marxism, interest is usury. It is adding to the cost of an item, a sum over and above the cost to produce, carry and distribute the item. It is building capital instead of productivity.

In capitalist theory interest is a just compensation for the use of money, provided the rate charged is not usurious. Usury is a term fixed by law.

In a capitalist country, loans for installment buying are made by banks, finance companies and since World War II, in the United States, to a limited degree, by government agencies, particularly to veterans.

In Soviet Russia, it is the government that becomes the lender and charges the interest. It is the government that goes capitalistic and becomes a finance company, charging for the use of money to purchase goods made by workers in government-owned factories.

However, the ownership of the factories or the stores by the Soviet government does not lessen the fact that Soviet Russia is forced to increase its use of capitalist devices. Whereas Red China continues to attempt to operate under classical Marxist theories, Soviet Russia is moving in the direction of a peculiar type of mixed economic system for which there is no name.

Soviet Russia might land in a kind of William McKinley capitalism rather than in Leninist Communism.

Teach Free Enterprise First

Educators in various locales are currently engaged in discussions of the merits of teaching public school children, particularly those in higher grades of high school, the theories and practices of communism as a form of government. The idea is to acquaint the generation now approaching maturity with the ideology under which more people live than any other.

This might seem to be admirable instruction, properly directed of course, which might help dispel the myth subscribed to by some that the only thing wrong with communism is its administration. To prohibit the explanation of Marxist doctrines in public schools on the ground that receptive minds might fancy a preference for this system over free enterprise might seem to be self defeating.

Perhaps the trouble lies in the suspicion that many high school graduates do not have a firm foundation in the operation of their own Republic, and must wait for a formal introduction to economic and business realities for tutoring on matters which should have received the highest priority in the classroom.

Politics, the art of government, and the definite advantages to free men of the incentive-award system of industrial economics have been pushed to the background of too many school programs. There are strong proponents of science, liberal arts, physical hygiene and sports, handicraft arts and the trades and even military sciences, but who is lobbying for a better understanding of the complexities of representative government?

Without the fundamentals of representative government firmly entranched in young minds, it can only be a matter of time until the principles all proclaim but few understand become dissipated by the cancerous growth of bureaucratic government control and regulation.

It is interesting, therefore — and heartening — to note the Board of Education of the state of Virginia has adopted a plan to teach free enterprise in the upper grades of high school. Acknowledging that smatterings of public instruction are currently offered in courses in history, government, business, mathematics and other subjects, the state superintendent of public instruction said improvements are needed for the subject "to be brought together in a concentrated unit."

Other state education officials and local school units might well ponder whether it would not be advantageous to insure a firm foundation on America's government structure before teaching systems foreign to it.

Russian Can Buy on Time

By George Sokolsky

Installment buying is saving in advance; that is, it is possible to make purchases without possessing the means to make the purchase. It is a distinctly American innovation in the capitalist economy.

Prior to installment buying, the purchaser bought a commodity after he had the money. One of the earliest forms of installment buying was the "Customer Pedlar." He was, in effect, a factor who lent the customer the money to buy a commodity, provided the purchase was made in a particular store. The Customer Pedlar got his from both sides, a commission from the store and interest on the money he lent to the customer.

Installment buying is, in a large measure, responsible for the exaggeratedly high standard of living in the United States. It makes mass production possible because of the enormous purchasing power developed among the people. It is also inflationary.

Installment buying has generally been condemned by Marxists as wasteful and as a weapon of the capitalists to soften the worker into believing that he is better off than he really is. Now, however, "Izvestia," the Soviet government organ, officially announces that Soviet Russia is about to adopt installment buying as a method of increasing the purchasing power of the Russian people. Herewith the text:

"'Izvestiya' reports that in the near future workers and employees will be able to buy a variety of consumer goods through installment buying. The list of these goods includes phonographs and radio sets of the super, first, and second class; cameras costing from 400 rubles; bicycles, scooters, motorcycles 'M-L-M' and K-58'; 'Moskva' boat engines; 'Tula' sewing machines; shotguns costing from 700 rubles; metal wristwatches; and woolen and silk clothing. This list, applicable to the union republics, may be changed and augmented.

"In buying goods on the installment plan, customers will make an initial cash payment of 20 per cent of the value of the goods and pay off the rest over 6 and 12 months.

"For the convenience of customers and on their written authorization, enterprises and institutions where they are employed will deduct the installments from their salaries. This will result in a considerable saving of time. An interest rate of 1 to 2 per cent of the cost of the goods is charged for the installment plan facilities."

Two phases of this announcement are interesting. One is the check-off. In the United States the check-off is employed principally to collect labor union dues. It is also used in connection with fringe benefits to which the employer makes contributions. It is rarely employed in connection with installment buying. Exercises Aid Fitness

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Exercise is good for you — for most of you, at any rate — if you use a little common sense.

As I have pointed out repeatedly, exercise won't help you lose much weight. However, it is an extremely important factor in contributing to total fitness.

Proper exercise helps you maintain strength, agility, speed, skill and endurance.

Naturally, any exercise program should be undertaken only with your doctor's approval. A complete physical examination is a prerequisite to any program of vigorous exercise.

When I talk about exercise, I don't mean to limit it to specially prescribed exercises. Exercise also includes actives games and sports and certain rather vigorous hobbies such as gardening and other work around the home. Swimming, of course, is a form of exercise but so is dancing.

All forms of exercise should be graded according to age, the state of an individual's fitness and his reaction to activity.

If you are past the age of 40, you can't expect to perform with the same vigor as someone in his 20's. Through childhood and adolescence, muscular strength increases.

For most of us it reaches a maximum in early adulthood. Women generally develop full muscular strength at a much earlier age than men do.

This strength begins a gradual decline for most persons when they reach their 30's or 40's. About the same time that circulatory system and the heart also begin to lose some of their functional capacity and some of their ability to recover after exercise.

Persons who have exercised throughout their earlier life and continue to do so after they have reached the peak of muscular development are likely to retain their capacities longer than persons who have not exercised much.

Unless you have maintained a systematic exercise or training schedule at least for several years, I don't recommend hard, fast, sustained or highly competitive games or sports for any of you past the age of 30.

In a subsequent column I'll give you some tips on when to exercise and when to stop exercising.

Question and Answer

Mrs. V. R. W.: What can I do for mental tension headache?

Answer: Tension headaches are cuased by a tense, anxious emotional situation. If your personal and business problems can be adjusted so as to avoid the tensions that beset you, you may be relieved. Adequate rest and relaxation is important.

Certain medicines help; your doctor can guide you into proper mental attitudes.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev sounds like a genial undertaker. The Soviet Premier can tell jokes but he has repeatedly talked of death in one form or another since he came here.

A psychologist might find it gloomy that Khrushchev, who switches from humor to anger in a flash and who has the power to turn the cold war hot instantly, dwells so much on corpses, graves, annihilation, burial and death.

He told the West three years ago "We will bury you," explaining when he got here that he had meant communism would prove itself superior to capitalism. He said he didn't mean the physical act of burying.

Nevertheless, "bury" must be high in his consciousness.

At the United Nations he spoke of the need to bury a dead man—meaning the Formosan government of Chiang Kai-shek — and urged that the "corpse" be carted away.

At one time he mentioned the power of nuclear weapons to take a "terrible toll in human lives" and at another warned they could cause the "annihilation of human beings."

He referred to the colonial system as "moribund," said a question about the Soviet Union's part in crushing the Hungarian revolution was a "dead rat stuck in your throat," and talked of East-West peace as a "question of the life or death of people."

He wondered out loud in Los Angeles if he should commit suicide—this was supposed to be a joke—because he couldn't see Disneyland, and he called for American-Soviet assurance of peace lest the earth be "covered with ashes and graves."

Khrushchev is not a simple man. Now, having elbowed his way to the top of the Communist heap, he is used to having his way without contradiction. That may explain his sudden spurts of anger when he thinks he is short-circuited or affronted.

But there is another possible explanation: that he is a lot less self-assured than he tries to appear. It would be easy, judging from things he says, to consider him arrogant.

But that may be only a compensation for deep-rooted inferiority.

His repeated boasts about Soviet power and his brandishing of rockets, even on this visit, are not the language of a man truly self-confident that Soviet power is acknowledged and respected.

He spends too much time trying to compel respect—too much time at least for a man who firmly believes he has respect.

He is quick-witted. He's tough. But he is also impetuous—for example, his bad temper with the mayor of Los Angeles—and this trigger-pull on a hydrogen weapon could start a war or destroy a city.

He said then: "The world has reached a point where on the strength of no more than some ridiculous accident, such as a technical fault in a plane carrying a hydrogen bomb or mental aberration in the pilot behind the controls, may translate war into reality."

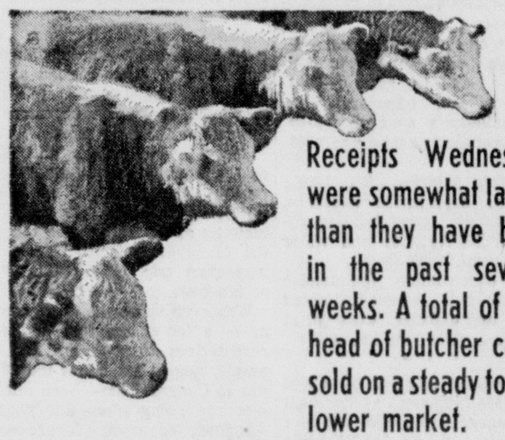

BAD NEWS—Carole Tregoff sits with her attorney, Robert Neeb, Jr., in Pomona, Calif. court, where she heard Judge James Whyte rule that she must stand trial with Dr. Bernard Finch. They are accused of murdering his wife.

Bull Market Gets Study on Wall Street

Some Uncertainties Cloud Future of Upclimbing Stocks

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is Wall Street's 10-year-old bull suffering from senility? Or is he just resting under a buttonwood tree till the current business uncertainties are cleared up?

The bull market has had a rough time of it since early August. Stock traders are nervous and many of the nation's 12 million stockholders have seen some of their paper profits trimmed.

There have been other slippery periods like the last seven weeks since the bull market got underway in 1949. And each time it has regained its feet and climbed higher. So the bullish minded say it will gain, as soon as the uncertainties are fathomed.

These are: How long the steel strike will last and how much damage it will do; Whether the cold war will thaw and defense spending be cut and taxes, too; Whether tight money will slow down business expansion and consumer spending.

The bulls think business activity will spurt with the end of the strike. They think corporate earnings will increase in the final months of the year and dividends push up to record highs.

The bears—and they are numerous if less vocal—aren't so sure. They think the important thing is what kind of a steel strike settlement and when—and the after effects on business and prices.

They think the recovery from the recession was topping out even before the strike.

They think the official tight money policy is sure to put a brake on economic growth and hence on earnings. They hold that the tight money policy may halt further inflation and thus cut the ground out from under those who advocate common stocks as a hedge against it.

And they think cold war tensions will keep everyone guessing for a long time yet.

But their chief argument is the price of stocks themselves. Bears hold that some stocks have been bid up so high that it will be a long time before the companies can earn enough to justify them.

The cautious point to the yields of stocks as compared to bonds. They note that when the bull market started in 1949 top grade common stocks were yielding 7 per cent on average and now only 3 per cent. (Yield means the return in dividends you get on the amount of money you spend for a stock.) In the same period the yield of top grade croproeta bonds went from 2.7 per cent to 5 per cent. Some government bonds can be bought at prices that yield 5 per cent on the money.

This makes bonds look better than stocks to many investors.

Whether the bulls or the bears are right, here is the box score on what has been happening to stock prices:

On August 3 the Associated Press price index of 60 common stocks reached a record high of 235.8. Last Friday it closed at 217.4. This wasn't much above the 215.8 at which it started the year (a record at that time, too).

The 30 industrial stocks in the index touched a record high of 355.6, also on August 3, and closed Friday at 325.7, compared with 313.9 at the start of the year.

The 15 rails hit their peak July 8 at 147.6 and Friday were 129.4, well below 138.7 at the start of the year. The 15 utilities started at 96, made their peak of 102.6 April 20 and closed Friday at 94.5.

The Dow - Jones averages hit their peaks at relatively the same times as the AP index and have slipped in like proportion.

Ohio Negroes Urged To Up Dedication

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A prominent Negro leader told delegates at the Ohio convention of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People Sunday that "you must have the same dedication of purpose that Negroes in the South have, even though you in Ohio are relatively better off."

Thurgood Marshall, chief legal counsel for the NAACP, spoke at the windup of the three-day convention marking the 50th anniversary of the Negro organization's founding.

"There are two things we must do," Marshall said.

"We must appraise our position, and we must regain the dedication of purpose we had a few years ago before we got 'used' to the rights we won," he declared.

"We haven't won the complete victory yet."

Marshall stressed the importance of the NAACP continuing its struggle to gain more civil rights and less segregation for Negroes.

"One very prominent man has said the NAACP should go slower. A news commentator recently said the NAACP should go out of business.

"Who's going into business if we go out?" he asked.

Dr. James P. Levy of Cleveland was installed as the new state president.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 800 drivers and warehousemen for the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio (Sohio) in Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown have ratified a contract agreement for wage increases of 11 cents an hour. The contract, to run until July 15, 1960, raises wage scales for drivers to $2.72 an hour.

Bull Market Gets Study on Wall Street

Some Uncertainties Cloud Future of Upclimbing Stocks

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is Wall Street's 10-year-old bull suffering from senility? Or is he just resting under a buttonwood tree till the current business uncertainties are cleared up?

The bull market has had a rough time of it since early August. Stock traders are nervous and many of the nation's 12 million stockholders have seen some of their paper profits trimmed.

There have been other slippery periods like the last seven weeks since the bull market got underway in 1949. And each time it has regained its feet and climbed higher. So the bullish minded say it will gain, as soon as the uncertainties are fathomed.

These are: How long the steel strike will last and how much damage it will do; Whether the cold war will thaw and defense spending be cut and taxes, too; Whether tight money will slow down business expansion and consumer spending.

The bulls think business activity will spurt with the end of the strike. They think corporate earnings will increase in the final months of the year and dividends push up to record highs.

The bears—and they are numerous if less vocal—aren't so sure. They think the important thing is what kind of a steel strike settlement and when—and the after effects on business and prices.

They think the recovery from the recession was topping out even before the strike.

They think the official tight money policy is sure to put a brake on economic growth and hence on earnings. They hold that the tight money policy may halt further inflation and thus cut the ground out from under those who advocate common stocks as a hedge against it.

And they think cold war tensions will keep everyone guessing for a long time yet.

But their chief argument is the price of stocks themselves. Bears hold that some stocks have been bid up so high that it will be a long time before the companies can earn enough to justify them.

The cautious point to the yields of stocks as compared to bonds. They note that when the bull market started in 1949 top grade common stocks were yielding 7 per cent on average and now only 3 per cent. (Yield means the return in dividends you get on the amount of money you spend for a stock.) In the same period the yield of top grade croproeta bonds went from 2.7 per cent to 5 per cent. Some government bonds can be bought at prices that yield 5 per cent on the money.

This makes bonds look better than stocks to many investors.

Whether the bulls or the bears are right, here is the box score on what has been happening to stock prices:

On August 3 the Associated Press price index of 60 common stocks reached a record high of 235.8. Last Friday it closed at 217.4. This wasn't much above the 215.8 at which it started the year (a record at that time, too).

The 30 industrial stocks in the index touched a record high of 355.6, also on August 3, and closed Friday at 325.7, compared with 313.9 at the start of the year.

The 15 rails hit their peak July 8 at 147.6 and Friday were 129.4, well below 138.7 at the start of the year. The 15 utilities started at 96, made their peak of 102.6 April 20 and closed Friday at 94.5.

The Dow - Jones averages hit their peaks at relatively the same times as the AP index and have slipped in like proportion.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Many Rebukes for 'Shocked'

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for that moron who held up her coat to hide a nursing mother from the eyes of the world:

What, pray tell, is so "shocking" and "disgusting" about the sight of a mother suckling her baby? If you must take it upon yourself to cloak the evil doings of others, get busy and look into those parked cars. Or at the back rows of our movie houses. THAT is where the coat belongs.

"DISGUSTED WITH SHOCKED"

DEAR ABBY: Regarding "Shocked, mortified and disgusted" at seeing a baby nursed in public. Adults eat in public don't they? Nursing a baby is natural and commendable regardless of where it is done. After all, that's where the "36" in "36-24-36" is for.

CURRENTLY "36"

'Brownie' Strong Unashamed Of Dealing in Sentiment

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Sentiment never goes out of style, says Henrietta Strong, known to her friends and a few millions sentimental Americans as "Brownie."

Proof of her statement is the story of her life, most of which has been spent marketing sentiment in mass quantities. While still in school Brownie started illustrating letters to her friends, decorating them with birds and flowers and including bits of philosophy in verse.

Today her greeting cards and decorated "conversation cards" are sold all over the United States and Canada in astronomical numbers, and soon will be distributed in England, Germany, France, Italy, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, with verses translated in the language of the country.

"I just don't feel that people really like these macabre, supersophisticated 'studio' cards that seem to be the current rage," says Miss Strong, looking pensively out the window of her skyscraper office in mid-town Manhattan. "If you want to send a card to a friend, why send an insulting one? This is a kind of humor I don't understand, and I predict it will be short-lived."

On the other hand, Brownie's sentimental cards have been selling in landslide quantities for more than 30 years, with sales increasing in the midst of the greeting-insult fad.

She turned out her first collection of Christmas cards in 1926, cutting the designs on linoleum blocks and printing them with the aid of a hand-turned clothes wringer. She also turns out decorated paper napkins, table mats, guest towels and such. Says she:

"I guess one reason the business is a success is that I love every minute of it. I'm not ashamed of being sentimental. I believe sentiment is something of which there's all too little in our busy modern world."

Clarksburg Church Scene of Steinhauser, Peck Wedding

MRS. ROBERT PAUL PECK

Clarksburg Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Dianne Elaine Steinhauser to Mr. Robert Paul Peck. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Deloss Smith at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, September 6.

Miss Steinhauser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Steinhauser, Clarksburg. Mr. Peck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peck, New Holland.

Miss Virginia Peck presided at the organ and Mrs. Neal Corcoran was vocalist. Baskets of chrysanthemums, two seven-branch candelabra and palms completed the decoration of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length white satin gown with long tapered sleeves. The bodice featured a V neckline with scalloped chantilly lace embroidered with pearls and iridescents and a large bustle bow in back. She wore a pearl headpiece with a fingertip veil of illusion. Her bridal bouquet consisted of shattered carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Eleanor Jane Steinhauser, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Dale Russell and Miss Sally Ann Litter were bridesmaids.

The attendants were attired in identical ballerina length gowns with the maid of honor wearing a shrimp colored gown and the bridesmaids wearing blue. The gowns were nylon organdy featuring a high neckline in front and tapering down in the back. They wore matching headpieces with scalloped veils and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and white mums. They wore pearl earrings, gift of the bride.

The flower girl was Sue Ann Steinhauser, cousin of the bride. She wore a white nylon organdy dress with a flower headpiece.

John Peck, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Richard Bowman, and William Steinhauser.

A rose lace over taffeta dress with navy accessories was worn by the bride's mother. The groom's mother wore a teal blue two-piece crepe dress with rose accessories. They wore white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social rooms. A tiered wedding cake centered the table enhanced with huckleberry, candles and arrangements of gladioli and dahlias. Hostesses were Mrs. Adrian Van Horn, Mrs. Russell Ater, Mrs. Frank Ater, Mrs. Arthur Litter, Mrs. Thomas Stockman, Mrs. Don Price and Miss Carol Walters.

For their wedding trip, the bride wore a navy blue sheath dress with matching accessories. She wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside at Route 1, New Holland.

Mrs. Peck is a graduate of Clarksburg High School and received a cadet teachers certificate from the Ohio University Branch, Chillicothe. She has worked at the Agriculture U. S. Dept. of Stabilization & Conservation Bin Site, Chillicothe.

Mr. Peck is a graduate of Atlanta Twp. High School and attended Ohio State University. He is presently engaged in farming with his father.

Many Rebukes for 'Shocked'

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for that moron who held up her coat to hide a nursing mother from the eyes of the world:

What, pray tell, is so "shocking" and "disgusting" about the sight of a mother suckling her baby? If you must take it upon yourself to cloak the evil doings of others, get busy and look into those parked cars. Or at the back rows of our movie houses. THAT is where the coat belongs.

"DISGUSTED WITH SHOCKED"

DEAR ABBY: Regarding "Shocked, mortified and disgusted" at seeing a baby nursed in public. Adults eat in public don't they? Nursing a baby is natural and commendable regardless of where it is done. After all, that's where the "36" in "36-24-36" is for.

CURRENTLY "36"

DEAR ABBY: Kindly pass this on for "Shocked, Mortified and Disgusted." You Americans are shocking, mortifying and disgusting with your stange attitude towards feeding a baby. The rest of the world finds breast-feeding very normal and beautiful.

What about the bare thighs and mid-sections you American ladies are showing to strangers on the streets? Is that more proper: Your sence of modesty and decency needs revision.

SCANDINAVIAN

DEAR ABBY: I read your account of the poor "shocked" party who was disgusted at observing the nursing child on a bus. All I can say is that I have seen more nakedness in the girlie magazines than is revealed when a mother nourishes her baby the way God intended. Pirates End Reds' First Division Bid

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It was Danny Murtaugh talking but it might as well have been Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds speaking about hurlers.

Murtaugh said Sunday he thinks "pitchers aren't human beings. They're freaks. One day they look great. Then they change for no apparent reason.

"I don't think anybody knows how to handle pitchers. I just pray."

Murtaugh's Pittsburgh Pirates belted six Cincinnati pitchers liberally Sunday in a lopsided 10-1 victory.

It cut off the Reds' final chance for a first division finish.

It was an especially bleak day for Hutchinson who has some hope of better Cincinnati pitching next year.

Hutch says "our pitching hopes in 1960 are tagged to three youngsters—Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook and Calude Osteen.

"O'Toole and Hook have come along handsomely. They should have the experience to be sound pitchers next season."

"Big Newk (Don Newcombe), Bob Purkey and Joe Nuxhall and those three kids will be our nucleus."

Hook, probably the steadiest of the three youngsters, held the Pi- unearned—served only 1 2-3 in- he pitched Sunday.

But Osteen, roughed up for four hits and four runs—two of them unearned—served only 1 2-3 in nings.

Starter Jim Brosnan took the loss. He lasted only part of the first inning, giving up four runs on four hits and two walks.

Six-Man Football Preview Indicates Close Title Race

By JAMES I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Saturday night's Pickaway County Six-Man League Football Preview proved at least one thing to the more than 500 fans on hand—that no one team should dominate the 1959 season.

Loose blocking, tackling and coordination marked the evening of play on the County Fairgrounds' field.

The slightly cool breeze blowing down field was not nearly as cold as the brand of football displayed on the gridiron. All coaches made the same remark, "We've still a long way to go before next Saturday's openers."

Passing highlighted the evening's play. Darby Twp.'s Tommy Walters sparked his team to a 6-0 quarter win over Saltcreek and a near win over rugged Stoutsville, which tagged the Trojans with a 7-0 loss.

* * *

IN FACT, Stoutsville surprised many fans with a dazzling passing attack to go along with its powerful ground offense of Bussert, Bussert and Bussert.

Frank Tanzille ran for the touchdown on two consecutive runs. Although Darby's backfield ran spur-of-the-moment plays, establishing no offensive pattern, its experienced and capable backs rose to the challenge and toppled the ever-threatening Saltcreek Warriors, 6-0.

Walnut-Pickaway: Although inexperienced, the Pirates battled the Tigers on even terms except on Walnut's lone touchdown drive of the evening.

A short Pirate punt gave Walnut control on the Pickaway 30. Powering runs by Gray and quarterback Tom Harber, plus Harber's 14-yard pass to George Forson moved the ball to within scoring distance.

Gray carried the ball the last five yards for the quarter-ending score, 6-0. Again Walnut's offensive attack was spotty and sputtered out on several occasions when Pickaway held to take over the ball.

Darby-Stoutsville: This was the most exciting game of the evening as both Darby and Stoutsville were halted on each other's one-yard line before the Indians finally broke through for the lone touchdown.

* * *

THE WINNING PLAY started badly. A bad pass from center drove Bussert deep into his own backfield to recover the loose ball.

He regained the ball and eluded two would-be Darby tacklers to toss to Anderson who romped 60 yards for the TD. Bussert ran over for the extra point.

The Trojans threatened once after holding Stoutsville on its one-yard line. Walters, whose pass protection was nil, remained undaunted by harassing Indian rushers to hit his ends, the Vance brothers, and Liff to reach Stoutsville's one.

Then three consecutive passes to Larry Vance and finally to Liff were dropped. Pass defenses on the part of both teams were riddled.

Scioto-Saltcreek: Passing attacks, interspersed with potent line smashes by speedy backs marked play of the final Preview quarter of the evening.

The highly successful pass combination of Turvey to Clifton paid off with a 35-yard touchdown play during the latter minutes of the period.

TURVEY ALSO HIT his linemen, Charles Spangler and John Jenkins, for good passing yardage. Scioto relied mostly on the running of Sanders and Larry Hancock.

The County League will open officially next Saturday at 6:30 p. m. when Walnut faces Saltcreek. The lid-lifter will be followed by a Darby-Pickaway encounter at 7:45 p. m.

Final contest of the evening pits Stoutsville against Scioto at 9 p. m. Officials for the Preview were Virgil Emswiler, Dale Helmick and Robert Lewis.

Tigers Prep For Strong Rosary Unit

Circleville High School football practice this week will center on preparation for Friday night's home opener with Columbus Rosary.

With the 18-6 defeat at Athens now history, the Tigers will devote their attentio. to making a good showing before the first home gathering. Rosary, an annual opponent, will come here with a strong team.

Several lettermen will be returning from the team which downed the Tigers, 6-0, and went on to record an undefeated, untied, unscored upon season. The Columbus squad deflated Gahanna, 22-0, Friday.

Circleville, with inexperience posing its most serious problem, came out of the Athens fray in good shape injury-wise.

Only co-captain Harold Arledge showed signs of the Athens game. He came up with a slight shoulder separation and may not be in the lineup Friday night.

The Tigers showed they needed offensive work, but defensively they gave the strong Athens unit a real scrap.

See the Tigers Tuesday Night

Circleville grid fans will get a chance to see the Tigers-Athens football pictures at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the high school.

Coach Carl Benhase said all Boosters and fans are invited to see the 45-minute movie. He said local fans will have a chance to see the previous Tiger game each Tuesday evening throughout the season.

Nicklaus Wears Amateur Crown

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., (AP) —A teen-ager, 19-year-old Jack Nicklaus, today ruled U.S. amateur golf — just " Charlie Coe, the 1958 winner, cted a year ago.

Coe, 35, lacking some of his old stamina, was beaten 1-up; in the finals Saturday by the sturdy blond belter from Columbus, Ohio.

Coe, upon accepting the runner-up medal, said: "I predicted a year ago that a young man would win the next championship. My prediction was better than my golf today."

Saltcreek To Use Speed, Deception

The Saltcreek Warriors will rely on speed and a capable passing attack during the 1959 Pickaway County Six-Man Football League schedule.

The Warriors dropped a 6-0 contest to Darby and came back with a 7-0 victory over Scioto last Saturday in the Six-Man Preview held at the County Fairgrounds' field.

This will be Saltcreek's second year in the County League and one year's experience may be all it needs to pull a few upsets.

The Warriors' showing Saturday made them a darkhorse in the League as the passing duo of Keith Turvey to George Clifton was especially adept during the two quarters played.

* * *

TURVEY ALSO HAS two ends with sticky fingers in Denny Valentine and Charles Spangler. Roger "Bucky" Clarke stood out on defense along with Clifton.

Saltcreek will operate from a T formation while its defense will revolve around the 3-2-1. The Warriors lost three top notch players by graduation.

They were Gary Valentine, first string All-County halfback, Dave Jordan, quarterback, and Frank Garrett. Jack Fout, a speedy halfback who placed in the 100-yard dash at the State Track Meet, last spring, was lost when he moved to Chillicothe.

Clifton, a 160-lb. halfback is a returning third string All-County star along with Clarke, who was honorable mention.

The Saltcreek roster with year in school, weight and position are: Turvey, senior, 150, quarterback; John Jenkins, senior, 215, center; Denny Valentine, junior, 155, end; Kenny Valentine, junior, 155, end; Orman Hartranft, junior, 150, halfback;

BOB BOWSER, junior, 140, halfback; Clarke, sophomore, 160, halfback; Dick Shaw, sophomore, 150, center and end; Lenny Hardman, sophomore, 135, halfback, and Spangler, sophomore, 145, end.

First year men for the Warriors are Bowser, Shaw, Hardman and Spangler. Shaw, Hardman and Hartranft played stellar defensive ball Saturday night.

Saltcreek cheerleaders are Carolyn Cupp, Judy Hardman, Becky Collins, Judy Archer and Beverly Hartranft.

Adios Butler Gets Jug Nod, 2-Division Field Expected

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Adios Butler is favored to win the 14th Little Brown Jug, $70,000 jaunt for three-year-old pacers, next Thursday at the Delaware County Fair.

He is favored so heavily that, paradoxically, the biggest field in the event's history may get into the act. Around the half-mile oval the talk is that as many as 20 young sidewheelers may be nominated when the box is opened for $500 starting fees Tuesday morning.

The rival owners and trainers, with an eye on their wallet, figure they can cut a piece of the melon by entering enough pacers to force a two-division race.

If 15 or more go, the chances are the classic will be split, with 30 per cent of the purse on the first heat of each division, and 40 per cent on the third or runoff race. The first five in each of the eliminations would come back for the runoff, assuring at least 10 sharing in the purse.

Even should Adios Butler win, and thus take all three legs of pacing's triple crown, his portion of the purse would be much lower than should he take it on the no-division plan.

A year ago Shadow Wave won in straight heats and picked up $36,000 of the $65,000 purse. The year before, with the field divided, Torpid triumphed but won only $27,000 of a $73,000 melon.

Highly-rated driver-trainers Del Miller, Joe O'Brien, Del Cameron and Curly Smart hold the key to the size of the field. Between them they could toss 10 entries on the track, Miller and Cameron having three each and the others two on the ready-to-go list.

Adios Butler, driven by Canadian-born Clint Hodgins, has tucked away the first two legs on the triple crown with wins in the Cane Futurity and the Messenger Stake. He has a $109,000 bankroll for the year, and figures to add to it here next week.

But the fleet-footed son of Adios-Debbie Hanover also figures to run into plenty of opposition. Meadow Al, the winter book favorite, is O'Brien's hope to make it two jugs in a row following his Shadow Wave triumph last year.

Cameron probably will handle Newport Admiral, and Del's 19-year-old son, Warren, will be in the sulky behind Newport Amigo. Del Miller figures to have Meadow Maid, Bristol Hanover and Adios Day in the jug jaunt.

Meadow Maid and Honick Rainbow, the latter trained by Stanley Dancer, will try to become the first filly ever to take the trophy. Other almost-certain starters include Ohio Time, Great Pleasure, Brown Star, Culver Pick, Carloader, Mainsail, King Rhythm, Smart Set, Dares Direct and Vicki's Jet—the 41-1 shot which copped Thursday's Brown Jug trial at Detroit.

Memorize This Gin Ad and Recite It at Parties

Up until the time of which we speak, gin has been forced to flee the still with plenty of rough spots in it. Embarrassed and chagrined, distillers hide these defects with various perfumes and other aromatics.

But now the jigger is up! There's a new gin (ours, silly!) as smooth and dry as the Sphinx's tongue. You can make a Martini with just the gin and ice—ending the vermouth argument once and for all. Or you can sip it straight with a little smile on your face.

We call it Smooth American Gin—by Schenley. When we don't feel up to that, we just say "S.A." It's the finest gin you've ever tasted. And it's ours, all ours! Make it yours. Today! Smooth American Gin by Schenley!

By the way, the code number is 334B, the price is only $3.61 a fifth. Distilled from 100% Grain Neutral Spirits, eighty proof. Schenley Distillers Company, New York City.

Pirates End Reds' First Division Bid

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It was Danny Murtaugh talking but it might as well have been Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds speaking about hurlers.

Murtaugh said Sunday he thinks "pitchers aren't human beings. They're freaks. One day they look great. Then they change for no apparent reason.

"I don't think anybody knows how to handle pitchers. I just pray."

Murtaugh's Pittsburgh Pirates belted six Cincinnati pitchers liberally Sunday in a lopsided 10-1 victory.

It cut off the Reds' final chance for a first division finish.

It was an especially bleak day for Hutchinson who has some hope of better Cincinnati pitching next year.

Hutch says "our pitching hopes in 1960 are tagged to three youngsters—Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook and Calude Osteen.

"O'Toole and Hook have come along handsomely. They should have the experience to be sound pitchers next season."

"Big Newk (Don Newcombe), Bob Purkey and Joe Nuxhall and those three kids will be our nucleus."

Hook, probably the steadiest of the three youngsters, held the Piunearned—served only 1 2-3 inhe pitched Sunday.

But Osteen, roughed up for four hits and four runs—two of them unearned—served only 1 2-3 innings.

Starter Jim Brosnan took the loss. He lasted only part of the first inning, giving up four runs on four hits and two walks.

Six-Man Football Preview Indicates Close Title Race

By JAMES I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Saturday night's Pickaway County Six-Man League Football Preview proved at least one thing to the more than 500 fans on hand—that no one team should dominate the 1959 season.

Loose blocking, tackling and coordination marked the evening of play on the County Fairgrounds' field.

The slightly cool breeze blowing down field was not nearly as cold as the brand of football displayed on the gridiron. All coaches made the same remark, "We've still a long way to go before next Saturday's openers."

Passing highlighted the evening's play. Darby Twp.'s Tommy Walters sparked his team to a 6-0 quarter win over Saltcreek and a near win over rugged Stoutsville, which tagged the Trojans with a 7-0 loss.

Adios Butler Gets Jug Nod, 2-Division Field Expected

Cameron probably will handle Newport Admiral, and Del's 12-year-old son, Warren, will be in the sulky behind Newport Amigo. Del Miller figures to have Meadow Maid, Bristol Hanover and Adios Day in the jug jaunt.

Meadow Maid and Honick Rainbow, the latter trained by Stanley Dancer, will try to become the first filly ever to take the trophy. Other almost-certain starters include Ohio Time, Great Pleasure, Brown Star, Culver Pick, Carloader, Mainsail, King Rhythm, Smart Set, Dares Direct and Vicki's Jet—the 41-1 shot which copped Thursday's Brown Jug trial at Detroit.

Memorize This Gin Ad and Recite It at Parties

Up until the time of which we speak, gin has been forced to flee the still with plenty of rough spots in it. Embarrassed and chagrined, distillers hide these defects with various perfumes and other aromatics.

But now the jigger is up! There's a new gin (ours, silly!) as smooth and dry as the Sphinx's tongue. You can make a Martini with just the gin and ice—ending the vermouth argument once and for all. Or you can sip it straight with a little smile on your face.

We call it Smooth American Gin—by Schenley. When we don't feel up to that, we just say "S.A." It's the finest gin you've ever tasted. And it's ours, all ours! Make it yours. Today! Smooth American Gin by Schenley!

By the way, the code number is 334B, the price is only $3.61 a fifth. Distilled from 100% Grain Neutral Spirits, eighty proof. Schenley Distillers Company, New York City.

Tigers Prep For Strong Rosary Unit

Circleville High School football practice this week will center on preparation for Friday night's home opener with Columbus Rosary.

With the 18-6 defeat at Athens now history, the Tigers will devote their attentio. to making a good showing before the first home gathering. Rosary, an annual opponent, will come here with a strong team.

Several lettermen will be returning from the team which downed the Tigers, 6-0, and went on to record an undefeated, untied, unscored upon season. The Columbus squad deflated Gahanna, 22-0, Friday.

Circleville, with inexperience posing its most serious problem, came out of the Athens fray in good shape injury-wise.

Only co-captain Harold Arledge showed signs of the Athens game. He came up with a slight shoulder separation and may not be in the lineup Friday night.

The Tigers showed they needed offensive work, but defensively they gave the strong Athens unit a real scrap.

See the Tigers Tuesday Night

Circleville grid fans will get a chance to see the Tigers-Athens football pictures at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the high school.

Coach Carl Benhase said all Boosters and fans are invited to see the 45-minute movie. He said local fans will have a chance to see the previous Tiger game each Tuesday evening throughout the season.

Nicklaus Wears Amateur Crown

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., (AP) —A teen-ager, 19-year-old Jack Nicklaus, today ruled U.S. amateur golf — just [illegible] Charlie Coe, the 1958 winner, [illegible]cted a year ago.

Coe, 35, lacking some of his old stamina, was beaten 1-up; in the finals Saturday by the sturdy blond belter from Columbus, Ohio.

Coe, upon accepting the runner-up medal, said: "I predicted a year ago that a young man would win the next championship. My prediction was better than my golf today."

Saltcreek To Use Speed, Deception

The Saltcreek Warriors will rely on speed and a capable passing attack during the 1959 Pickaway County Six-Man Football League schedule.

The Warriors dropped a 6-0 contest to Darby and came back with a 7-0 victory over Scioto last Saturday in the Six-Man Preview held at the County Fairgrounds' field.

This will be Saltcreek's second year in the County League and one year's experience may be all it needs to pull a few upsets.

The Warriors' showing Saturday made them a darkhorse in the League as the passing duo of Keith Turvey to George Clifton was especially adept during the two quarters played.

* * *

TURVEY ALSO HAS two ends with sticky fingers in Denny Valentine and Charles Spangler. Roger "Bucky" Clarke stood out on defense along with Clifton.

Saltcreek will operate from a T formation while its defense will revolve around the 3-2-1. The Warriors lost three top notch players by graduation.

They were Gary Valentine, first string All-County halfback, Dave Jordan, quarterback, and Frank Garrett. Jack Fout, a speedy halfback who placed in the 100-yard dash at the State Track Meet, last spring, was lost when he moved to Chillicothe.

Clifton, a 160-lb. halfback is a returning third string All-County star along with Clarke, who was honorable mention.

* * *

First year men for the Warriors are Bowser, Shaw, Hardman and Spangler. Shaw, Hardman and Hartranft played stellar defensive ball Saturday night.

Saltcreek cheerleaders are Carolyn Cupp, Judy Hardman, Becky Collins, Judy Archer and Beverly Hartranft.

Magic Number Is Still 'Two' For Chisox '9'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The magic number in the American League still is two for the faltering Chicago White Sox with Cleveland still alive and breathing.

Joe Gordon, who has quit as manager of the Indians, is playing out the string. General manager Frank Lane says he stays until the club is eliminated mathematically. Since he said that, the Indians have won three straight.

Just suppose Cleveland wins its last five games and Chicago loses its four. Would Lane let Gordon manage in the World Series? Or would Gordon be entitled to fire Lane?

Of course, that's all hypothetical. With a 3½ game lead, all Chicago has to do is win one more and they can do no worse than tie. Any combination of two White Sox victories or Cleveland defeats and it would be all over.

However, the schedule runs in favor of the Indians the rest of the way with all their games at home while the Sox are on the road. Coming up Tuesday night is the big one with Chicago at Cleveland in their final meeting of the year. After that single game, Cleveland entertains Kansas City in four weekend games while Chicago lays three at Detroit.

The "K" boys from Detroit — Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline — delayed Chicago's efforts to clinch at least a tie Sunday. Each hit a home run in the Tigers' 5-4 victory behind Don Mossi. Sherm Lollar homered for the Sox.

The White Sox now have lost two one-run games in a row. They have dropped seven of their last 10.

Cleveland squeezed past Kansas City 4-3 with the help of homers by Minnie Minoso and Tito Francona. Woody Held's single drove in Rocky Colavito with the winning run in the eighth.

Camilo Pascual pitched his sixth shutout and 17th complete game, both tops in the American League, as last-place Washington romped over Baltimore 5-0. Rookie Dan Dobbek hit his first big league homer off loser Billy O'Dell in the first.

Elston Howard's two-run pinch homer was the big blow in New York's 7-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox, who beat them in the season series for the first time since 1948. The Red Sox had a 13-9 edge in the year's competition with the Yanks.

Los Angeles has wrested the National League lead from the San Francisco Giants but Milwaukee is breathing down the Dodgers' necks only one half game back.

Warren Giles, the National League president, might as well start flipping coins and drawing plans for a playoff. If this race doesn't wind up in a two-way or even three-way deadlock, he will be a lucky man.

After Sunday's 8-2 Los Angeles victory that knocked the Giants from a first-place tie into third place, a full game behind, both the Dodgers and Giants have five games to play, all on the road. The Giants will play day games at Chicago Tuesday and Wednesday while the Dodgers are playing night games at St. Louis. They can tie the idle Dodgers to three final games next weekend.

In the meantime, the Milwaukee Braves, 8-5 winners over Philadelphia Sunday, have six to go. They can tie the idle Dodgers tonight if they can beat Pittsburgh at Forbes Field behind Warren Spahn. The Braves also play night games at Pittsburgh Tuesday and Wednesday. After an off day Thursday, they move home for a final three-game-set with the last-place Phillies.

The Dodgers completed a three-game sweep over the Giants in the final series to be played at Seals Stadium.

A two-game Giant lead of Saturday morning melted when the Dodgers took a day-night doubleheader. Sunday's defeat dropped San Francisco out of the lead for the first time since Aug. 4. It was the first time the Dodgers had held undisputed possession since July 29.

Chicago's Cardinals, Bears Pace Pro Grid Preview List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago's twin entry of the Bears and Cardinals—the only two-team bloc in the circuit — snagged top honors during the National Football League's exhibition season.

With the pro clubs settling down today to final preparations for the league's regular season openers next weekend, the Bears reign as champs in the Western Division with a 5-1 record and the Cards in the Eastern sector with a 5-2 mark.

The Bears had an opportunity to wind up pre-season play as the only undefeated team, but lost to Cleveland 33-31 Saturday when Lou Groza kicked a 41-yard field goal with 11 seconds remaining.

The Cards, meanwhile, concluded on a triumphant note Sunday as they handed defending champion Baltimore its second consecutive loss, 31-17.

Bay edged Pittsburgh 13-10, New York defeated San Francisco

In other weekend games, Green 17-13, Detroit walloped Washington 31-14 and Los Angeles nipped Philadelphia 31-28.

Bobby Mitchell scored twice and Jimmy Brown dashed 70 yards to pace the Browns (2-4) to a 30-14 bulge at the end of the third quarter. The Bears drove back behind Ed Brown's passing and took a 31-30 lead when Willie Galimore scored from the 3 with a minute to go. Then Milt Plum pitched Cleveland close enough for Groza to take over.

The Cards, with John Crow scoring on a 36-yard pass from King Hill and on a nine-yard run, whipped the Colts (4-2) by stalling Johnny U'nitas and his vaunted aerial attack. Bobby Conrad accounted for 13 Cardinal points with a TD, a field goal and four extra points.

For the second week in a row Paul Hornung scored all the Packers (4-2) points, booming a 44-yard field goal with 10 seconds left to wrap it up. The Steelers (2-4) had tied it as veteran signal-caller Bobby Layne engineered a 9-yard march with Tom Tacy going the final 12 yards.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST

Magic Number Is Still 'Two' For Chisox '9'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The magic number in the American League still is two for the faltering Chicago White Sox with Cleveland still alive and breathing.

Joe Gordon, who has quit as manager of the Indians, is playing out the string. General manager Frank Lane says he stays until the club is eliminated mathematically. Since he said that, the Indians have won three straight.

Just suppose Cleveland wins its last five games and Chicago loses its four. Would Lane let Gordon manage in the World Series? Or would Gordon be entitled to fire Lane?

Of course, that's all hypothetical. With a 3½ game lead, all Chicago has to do is win one more and they can do no worse than tie. Any combination of two White Sox victories or Cleveland defeats and it would be all over.

However, the schedule runs in favor of the Indians the rest of the way with all their games at home while the Sox are on the road. Coming up Tuesday night is the big one with Chicago at Cleveland in their final meeting of the year. After that single game, Cleveland entertains Kansas City in four weekend games while Chicago lays three at Detroit.

The "K" boys from Detroit — Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline — delayed Chicago's efforts to clinch at least a tie Sunday. Each hit a home run in the Tigers' 5-4 victory behind Don Mossi. Sherm Lollar homered for the Sox.

The White Sox now have lost two one-run games in a row. They have dropped seven of their last 10.

Cleveland squeezed past Kansas City 4-3 with the help of homers by Minnie Minoso and Tito Francona. Woody Held's single drove in Rocky Colavito with the winning run in the eighth.

Camilo Pascual pitched his sixth shutout and 17th complete game, both tops in the American League, as last-place Washington romped over Baltimore 5-0. Rookie Dan Dobbek hit his first big league homer off loser Billy O'Dell in the first.

Elston Howard's two-run pinch homer was the big blow in New York's 7-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox, who beat them in the season series for the first time since 1948. The Red Sox had a 13-9 edge in the year's competition with the Yanks.

Los Angeles has wrested the National League lead from the San Francisco Giants but Milwaukee is breathing down the Dodgers' necks only one half game back.

Warren Giles, the National League president, might as well start flipping coins and drawing plans for a playoff. If this race doesn't wind up in a two-way or even three-way deadlock, he will be a lucky man.

After Sunday's 8-2 Los Angeles victory that knocked the Giants from a first-place tie into third place, a full game behind, both the Dodgers and Giants have five games to play, all on the road. The Giants will play day games at Chicago Tuesday and Wednesday while the Dodgers are playing night games at St. Louis. They can tie the idle Dodgers to three final games next weekend.

In the meantime, the Milwaukee Braves, 8-5 winners over Philadelphia Sunday, have six to go. They can tie the idle Dodgers tonight if they can beat Pittsburgh at Forbes Field behind Warren Spahn. The Braves also play night games at Pittsburgh Tuesday and Wednesday. After an off day Thursday, they move home for a final three-game-set with the last-place Phillies.

The Dodgers completed a three-game sweep over the Giants in the final series to be played at Seals Stadium.

A two-game Giant lead of Saturday morning melted when the Dodgers took a day-night doubleheader. Sunday's defeat dropped San Francisco out of the lead for the first time since Aug. 4. It was the first time the Dodgers had held undisputed possession since July 29.

Chicago's Cardinals, Bears Pace Pro Grid Preview List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago's twin entry of the Bears and Cardinals—the only two-team bloc in the circuit — snagged top honors during the National Football League's exhibition season.

With the pro clubs settling down today to final preparations for the league's regular season openers next weekend, the Bears reign as champs in the Western Division with a 5-1 record and the Cards in the Eastern sector with a 5-2 mark.

The Bears had an opportunity to wind up pre-season play as the only undefeated team, but lost to Cleveland 33-31 Saturday when Lou Groza kicked a 41-yard field goal with 11 seconds remaining.

The Cards, meanwhile, concluded on a triumphant note Sunday as they handed defending champion Baltimore its second consecutive loss, 31-17.

Bay edged Pittsburgh 13-10, New York defeated San Francisco

In other weekend games, Green 17-13, Detroit walloped Washington 31-14 and Los Angeles nipped Philadelphia 31-28.

Bobby Mitchell scored twice and Jimmy Brown dashed 70 yards to pace the Browns (2-4) to a 30-14 bulge at the end of the third quarter. The Bears drove back behind Ed Brown's passing and took a 31-30 lead when Willie Galimore scored from the 3 with a minute to go. Then Milt Plum pitched Cleveland close enough for Groza to take over.

The Cards, with John Crow scoring on a 36-yard pass from King Hill and on a nine-yard run, whipped the Colts (4-2) by stalling Johnny U'nitas and his vaunted aerial attack. Bobby Conrad accounted for 13 Cardinal points with a TD, a field goal and four extra points.

For the second week in a row Paul Hornung scored all the Packers (4-2) points, booming a 44-yard field goal with 10 seconds left to wrap it up. The Steelers (2-4) had tied it as veteran signal-caller Bobby Layne engineered a 9-yard march with Tom Tacy going the final 12 yards.

Irish Grid Coach Faces Tough Rebuilding Task

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major football teams in the midwest.

By WLATER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—When Joe Kuharich played football at Notre Dame in 1935 as a guard he weighed a mere 145 pounds. However, as his high school coach said, "Joe was a determined, scrappy, intense player."

Joe Kuharich today weighs in at 230 pounds. He's still determined, scrappy and intense as he takes over the country's No. 1 coaching position, Notre Dame, for the first time.

You can note it in his practice sessions and you note it as you talk with him in his office in the Rockne Memorial, where he prefers to meet the press rather than in the dressing room.

The Notre Dame story, always a big one, will be a bigger one this year, not including Joe's 230 pounds, for the former pro player and coach of the Washington Redskins moved into a real hot spot when he took over for the youthful, Terry Brennan, who was fired during the Christmas season even though the Irish had turned in a respectable 6-4 record.

"I was extremely happy in pro football," said Joe. "However, I also feel that it will be the same way here. I don't feel that there is any more pressure here than in pro football."

For once Notre Dame isn't billed to the skies in pre-season reckoning. Joe puts it this way: "I don't see any team on our schedule at this date over which we could be called the favorite."

"I'd say that this year will be one of readjustment. The percentage of errors will be great. We just don't think that this group will blend too quickly because of inexperience. We don't have a tackle on the squad who has played any game ball. That's an abnormal situation.

"Our good points are few and far between. Our offense is the type that needs a solid fullback. Last year we had bigger boys for that spot. We have few players who we might term as standouts. Our quarterback, George Izo, is a fine passer but he has to have a line in front of him.

"Our play patterns are the same as we taught in college ball before. Our overall plan is to find the personnel to fit the positions. We hope to throw, sure, with Izo, but it will be predicated by the protection we can give the passer. Anyway, we'll probably run the ball half the time."

The solid facts on the Notre Dame eleven accent these considerations: Lost from the 1958 squad are three of the first four ends, the first five tackles, three of the first four guards and the first three fullbacks, including the very fine Nick Pietrosante.

The line probably will form with Monty Stickles at left end, backed by two sophomores, Les Traver and Charlie Augustine. At left tackle the starter is uncertain but Ollie Flor, a senior who was switched from end, and Joe Carollo are bidding for the spot. Myron Pottios, who started several games at center last year, has been switched to guard and he will be the starting left guard, backed by two sophomores, Norb Roy and Nick Buonicnti.

Bob Scholtz, a senior and heaviest man on the squad at 250, will be the center. Dave Hurd, who would be No. 2, didn't return to school because of a knee injury. Two sophomores follow Scholtz.

A fine football player, Ken Adamson is the right guard and the captain. Behind him are sophomores Dick Ciesielski, who had a bad knee, could be the right tackle if all right. Otherwise his spot will be filled by either George Williams or Bob Bill, both sophomores.

Mike Lodish, who played only 11 minutes last year, is the right end, being pressed by Jim Colosimo, who was out with a shoulder injury last year.

Izo, who tossed 118 passes, completing 60 for nine touchdowns last year, is the quarterback and a good one. Tom Jorling, a sophomore, is behind him.

Bill (Red) Mack, who averaged six yards a carry last year, is the left half and a good one. Behind him are Ray Ratkowski, a former track man, and George Sefcik, a sophomore from Cleveland. Bill Clark, a junior, will be the right half, followed by Bob Scarpitto, who did well last year, and Pat Doyle. Jim Crotty, who may also play some at halfback, will be the fullback and behind him are Dan Griffith and Joe Perkowski.

Kuharich says he was impressed with Izo when he saw him in action. "I thought he maneuvered better than they told me," he explained. Eddie LeBaron of the Redskins worked with Izo for a few days.

Kuharich and his coaches, all new but one, are living right with the players for the first two weeks. And he conducts his main calisthenic sessions after practice, not before.

The Notre Dame schedule, as usual, is a tough one. The Irish open with North Carolina and follow with Purdue, California, Michigan State, Northwestern, Navy, Georgia Tech, Pittsburgh, Iowa and Southern California. Both the Northwestern and Navy games are sold out.

Westfall Characteristics Outlined by OSU Professor

Westfall School District's general features were outlined today by Dr. J. L. Landes, an Ohio State University professor, who is the district's educational consultant on the proposed consolidated high school.

The Westfall School District is composed of all of the major part of six townships in the Western portion of Pickaway County.

It is irregular in shape, with an area somewhat less than 240 square miles and at extreme points it has a length of about 23 miles and a width of about 16 miles.

The road system which serves the area generally converges on Circleville at the east central edge of the District.

* * *

MAJOR transportation barriers are Deercreek in the south western section and Big Darby Creek which cuts through the east central section and has its confluence with the Scioto River on the eastern edge of the District.

The Scioto River cuts through only a small section of the District in Jackson Twp.

The major portion of the population of the District resides within a triangular area formed by Derby, Darbyville and Fox on the east, Fox, Williamsport, and Atlanta, Five Points and Derby, on the west.

The geographic center of the District falls somewhat to the south of the population center, but within the same general area.

The third measure of centrality, that of access or traffic, falls somewhat to the east of the other two centers, being influenced in the main by the Circleville - London-Northern Road and the Darbyville-Williamsport Road. Discounting the enrollments of tuition pupils, and adjusting for the transfer of pupils from one center to another for upper and high grades, three centers, Atlanta, Muhlenberg and Jackson, show a moderate increase of about 10 per cent during the past decade.

* * *

THIS corresponds with the general population increase in the District. The other three centers show increases of about 30 per cent during the past decade.

Enrollments through grade six show that sections average out at about 25 pupils. It must be noted that rounding of projections for individual centers has increased the enrollment figure about five per cent over that obtained on a district wide projection.

While an estimated 250 pupils in junior high grades would need 11 home rooms if housed at each center, they would require only nine rooms if housed at only one center.

While centralized housing would require more transportation, it would not only reduce the number of home rooms needed but also the number specialized rooms demanded for a good program.

The high school grades 9-12 enrollment corresponds well with projections using different bases and indicating enrollments about 10 per cent higher than those obtained from using general population data.

In terms of size, this means that class sections might have about 28 pupils instead of 25, a variation which frequently results in normal operation as a result of families moving into a school district.

Broken down by grades, the largest foreseeable group in the high school will have five sections of freshmen, four sections of sophomores four sections of juniors, and three sections of seniors, each with 25-30 pupils.

Silent March Protests Visit By Khrushchev

CLEVELAND (AP) — An estimated 10,000 persons marched through downtown Cleveland Sunday in a solemn, funeral-like procession, protesting Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to this country.

Many in the line of march were sons and daughters of 17 European captive nations. Some wore black armbands. Others carried black-draped flags of the nations that have lost their freedom to Communism.

Julius Smetona, son of the former Lithuanian president, told the crowd in brief ceremonies at the mall on the lakefront following the march that the Soviet premier's visit will only strengthen Russian prestige.

"Khrushchev's invitation to come to the United States is important to him," the Cleveland attorney said. "But there is no good for our country in it."

Most of the marchers were dressed in black, gray or dark blue. Few wore the traditionally gay nationality costumes. They walked slowly in the measured footsteps of mourning and the men carried their hats as if in a funeral procession.

There was neither martial music nor cheering crowds, making it one of the quietest parades in the city's history.

Sponsors of the march were the Coordinating Committee of Nations Under the Communist Yoke and the American Friends of the Anti-Bolshevik Bloc of Nations.

Palm Tours East Dairy Facilities

R. C. Palm, manager of the Pickaway Dairy Co-op Assn., has returned to Circleville after a four-day tour of East Coast dairy facilities.

Palm and 77 other Ohio dairymen, all members of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, visited the Walker - Gordon Farms in Plainsboro, N. J.; talked with officials of the Dairymen's League, in New York City; toured the United Nations; visited the Lehigh Valley Dairmen's Cooperative in Allentown, Pa. and toured Gettysburg, Pa.

New Drivers' Licenses Are On Sale Here

New driver licenses went on sale recently according to J. Grant Keys, Director, Department of Highway Safety.

The licenses of some 3 million Ohio motorists will expire during the 12-month period following the opening date of the sale.

Renewal notices will not be sent to present license holders since the mechanized syetem was abandoned sometime ago as being too costly.

The new licenses will be convenient pocketbook size without folding and will contain a pre-printed serial number which will serve as the license number.

* * *

THE SO-CALLED permanent license numbering system will not be retained.

Although Ohio has a 3-year licensing system, due to the grandfather clause, approximately 70 per cent of the license holders must obtain a renewed license during the first year of each renewal period.

Expiring licenses may be renewed not more than 30 days before expiration date. If the license holder fails to renew his license within 6 months after it expires he will be required to pass a driver examination in order to regain driving privileges.

Approximately 500 agencies located throughout the State will handle the sale.

Mrs. Joseph Brink, Route 3, is the deputy registrar for Circleville with her office located in the basement of the Pickaway County courthouse. Mrs. Georgia Hoover is the deputy registrar for Ashville.

Pherson Church Sold for $1,000

The Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Saturday gave permission for the trustees of the now defunct Pherson Methodist Church to sell the church property to the Churches of Christ in Christian Union.

Sale price was $1,000. The Pherson Methodist Church is located in Muhlenberg Twp. and was declared extinct on July 7, 1957.

On authorization by the Board of Trustees of the Annual Conference of the Methodist Church of Ohio the Pherson trustees sold the church.

50 Pickaway Women Attend Farm Bureau Poultry Meet

Some 50 Pickaway County women attended the Rural-Urban meeting sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Friday at the First Presbyterian Church.

The program was built around uses of poultry and its products. Each Farm Bureau Council was asked to prepare dishes made from these items; Recipes accompanied the dishes. They will be printed and mailed to those who attended.

Lewis Hay, Lockbourne, member of the Board of Directors of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau and the Ohio Farm Bureau and chairman of the Poultry Advisory Committee, told the ladies that the buying habits of the consuming public have a great effect on the producers of poultry products.

He also pointed out that farming is changing very rapidly. The trend is from many diversified activities on the farm to a more specialized type of operation which by its very nature tends to increase the size of the unit.

Vertical integration, or contract farming, is farther advanced in the poultry industry than in any other. This type of operation has both good and bad aspects. One bad feature is that it may take away some of the initiative of the producer and tend to make him more or less a hired hand.

* * *

THE PRODUCER can have some say in this contract when it is done through his farmer-owned cooperative. Any producer with 1,500 or less birds is considered a small producer by present standards. Consumption of poultry and eggs has decreased.

Hay listed some of the causes as follows: Eating habits of the public — these might be changed; breakfast competition—eggs must compete with cereals which offer prizes to the small fry. Hay suggested offering premiums for egg shells!

Hay suggested the following "rules of thumb" for consumers wishing to purchase and use high quality eggs. 1. Purchase from a reliable producer or store which keeps eggs properly refrigerated and away from contaminating odors. 2. Remove eggs from the carton and store in the refrigerator at home. Eggs should be stored in covered containers with small ends down.

Hay explained the various grades (US) used for egg classification and pointed out that the largest size is not always the best buy.

For the benefit of flock owners, it was pointed out that it is illegal in Ohio to advertise "fresh eggs". An egg which has been under a hen for three hours has deteriorated in quality beyond an egg which has been held for six or seven days under proper storage conditions.

The group also enjoyed a film on the poultry industry at the conclusion of Hay's talk.

Miss Mary Saortridge presided during the meeting and Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Women's Committee chairman, welcomed the group.

Eleven Farm Bureau Councils were represented at the meeting including Darby No. 7, Darby No. 11, Deercreek 2, Frankway, Jackson, Mondamin, Monroe No. 9, Muhlenberg No. 8, Scioto No. 14, Stage Pond and Wayne. The Councils were assigned various responsibilities for the meeting.

Mrs. Cooke Metzger of Deercreek Council presented two vocal numbers. She was accompanied by Miss Linda Sharpe at the piano.

Frankfort Man Pleads Guilty

William Mack Foster, 45, Route 1, Frankfort, Friday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court pleaded guilty to driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants.

He received the usual sentence of $125 fine and costs, five days confinement in the County Jail and six months suspension of his driver's license.

Foster was indicted by the April term of the County Grand Jury but failed to appear for his arraignment. An order was issued for his arrest but he was never apprehended.

Friday he walked into court and asked that his case be heard. Foster said he had been out of state working and was unable to appear at his arraignment.

Russia Is Oozing With Friendship

MOSCOW (AP) — America is getting the full friendship treatment in Soviet newspapers and on radio and television. Nothing like it has been seen here in recent years.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States has really thawed the air in Moscow.

The Soviet press has blown hot before only to blow cold again later. But a sample of how warm it can get came in a brief Tass dispatch reporting the arrival of a U. S. military delegation in the Iranian capital of Tehran.

In the past this might be an occasion for reviving charges of aggression by the United States on the Soviet Union's southern borders. But this dispatch contained not one critical adjective.

Moscow radio is carrying programs of American music and translations from American literature several times a day.

The children's morning hour today began with a Soviet singing a translation of Stephen Foster's 'Way Down upon the Swanee River. Other American and Soviet songs followed. A story called "My American Friend Sandy" by a soviet children's writer also was read.

Friday there was a radio recitation of Longfellow's Hiawatha. selections followed from O. Henry and Mark Twin. TV viewers saw Walt Disney cartoons, accompanied by an explanation of his animation techniques.

Moscow and Leningrad radio stations also carried recorded concerts by American artists including pianist Van Cliburn, a favorite here since he won fame in a Soviet piano competition.

During a TV sports show, viewers saw a film of the recent Soviet-American track meet in Philadelphia.

The Soviet news agency Tass distributed a long article by one of its commentators, Igor Orlov, detailing instances of Soviet-American cooperation.

Starting off with a dinner remark by President Eisenhower, Orlov went all the way back to the early days of the American republic by recalling the arrival of John Quincy Adams as the first U.S. ambassador here. He followed up with a historical note on the protection given American West Coast cities by the imperial Russian fleet during the American Civil War.

THEY'RE GOING TO WED— Hollywood actress Claire Bloom and actor Rod Steiger announced they will wed "in a few days." Steiger currently is co-starring in a new movie, "Seven Thieves."

'Appleseed' Fete Slated On Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Next Saturday will be the 185th birthday anniversary of John Chapman, better known to the world as "Johnny Appleseed."

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle proclaimed the day officially as "Johnny Appleseed Day" in Ohio. He urged all civic, fraternal and religious organizations to join in appropriate commemoration of Chapman's services to the state.

The governors of Indiana, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts also have issued similar proclamations. They recognize the birth anniversary of the man who, when traveling through Ohio and neighboring states, as a christian missionary, planted thousands of appleseeds, and, as Gov. DiSalle said in his proclamation, "gave rise to beautiful and fruitful orchards across the countryside." It was Chapman who helped the early settlers of Ohio establish their orchards.

Ohio's Sen. Frank J. Lausche will give a talk on Johnny Appleseed which will be piped to scores of radio stations in this area.

Norway has more than 400 organized camping grounds with accommodations for tents and trailers.

Westfall Characteristics Outlined by OSU Professor

Westfall School District's general features were outlined today by Dr. J. L. Landes, an Ohio State University professor, who is the district's educational consultant on the proposed consolidated high school.

The Westfall School District is composed of all of the major part of six townships in the Western portion of Pickaway County.

It is irregular in shape, with an area somewhat less than 240 square miles and at extreme points it has a length of about 23 miles and a width of about 16 miles.

The road system which serves the area generally converges on Circleville at the east central edge of the District.

* * *

MAJOR transportation barriers are Deercreek in the south western section and Big Darby Creek which cuts through the east central section and has its confluence with the Scioto River on the eastern edge of the District.

The Scioto River cuts through only a small section of the District in Jackson Twp.

The major portion of the population of the District resides within a triangular area formed by Derby, Darbyville and Fox on the east, Fox, Williamsport, and Atlanta, Five Points and Derby, on the west.

The geographic center of the District falls somewhat to the south of the population center, but within the same general area.

The third measure of centrality, that of access or traffic, falls somewhat to the east of the other two centers, being influenced in the main by the Circleville - London-Northern Road and the Darbyville-Williamsport Road. Discounting the enrollments of tuition pupils, and adjusting for the transfer of pupils from one center to another for upper and high grades, three centers, Atlanta, Muhlenberg and Jackson, show a moderate increase of about 10 per cent during the past decade.

* * *

THIS corresponds with the general population increase in the District. The other three centers show increases of about 30 per cent during the past decade.

Enrollments through grade six show that sections average out at about 25 pupils. It must be noted that rounding of projections for individual centers has increased the enrollment figure about five per cent over that obtained on a district wide projection.

While an estimated 250 pupils in junior high grades would need 11 home rooms if housed at each center, they would require only nine rooms if housed at only one center.

While centralized housing would require more transportation, it would not only reduce the number of home rooms needed but also the number specialized rooms demanded for a good program.

The high school grades 9-12 enrollment corresponds well with projections using different bases and indicating enrollments about 10 per cent higher than those obtained from using general population data.

In terms of size, this means that class sections might have about 28 pupils instead of 25, a variation which frequently results in normal operation as a result of families moving into a school district.

Broken down by grades, the largest foreseeable group in the high school will have five sections of freshmen, four sections of sophomores four sections of juniors, and three sections of seniors, each with 25-30 pupils.

Silent March Protests Visit By Khrushchev

CLEVELAND (AP) — An estimated 10,000 persons marched through downtown Cleveland Sunday in a solemn, funeral-like procession, protesting Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to this country.

Many in the line of march were sons and daughters of 17 European captive nations. Some wore black armbands. Others carried black-draped flags of the nations that have lost their freedom to Communism.

Julius Smetona, son of the former Lithuanian president, told the crowd in brief ceremonies at the mall on the lakefront following the march that the Soviet premier's visit will only strengthen Russian prestige.

"Khrushchev's invitation to come to the United States is important to him," the Cleveland attorney said. "But there is no good for our country in it."

Most of the marchers were dressed in black, gray or dark blue. Few wore the traditionally gay nationality costumes. They walked slowly in the measured footsteps of mourning and the men carried their hats as if in a funeral procession.

There was neither martial music nor cheering crowds, making it one of the quietest parades in the city's history.

Sponsors of the march were the Coordinating Committee of Nations Under the Communist Yoke and the American Friends of the Anti-Bolshevik Bloc of Nations.

Palm Tours East Dairy Facilities

R. C. Palm, manager of the Pickaway Dairy Co-op Assn., has returned to Circleville after a four-day tour of East Coast dairy facilities.

J.; talked with officials of the Dairymen's League, in New York City; toured the United Nations; visited the Lehigh Valley Dairmen's Cooperative in Allentown, Pa. and toured Gettysburg, Pa.
